

HENEY CALLS TALESMAN PERJURER

Says He Will Call Witnesses to Prove It at Session of the Ford Trial This Morning.

EIGHT JURORS ARE
FINALLY ACCEPTED

Speculation as to the Possible
Calling of Abe Ruef Raised
Again By Declaration of Man
That He Wouldn't Credit Him

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—When the task of compelling a jury to try the case of the late Mayor of San Francisco, accused of bribery, resumed tomorrow morning, Assistant District Attorney Henehy may attempt to prove by witnesses that the late Mayor was a perjurer. The special prosecutor so announced at the close of this afternoon's session of Judge Lawlor's court. If he succeeds, Henehy will be the second man to be excluded on that grave charge.

Kahn is a forger. He and Henehy got into verbal trouble at the outset of his examination. Accused of being a forger, Henehy admitted that he was a forger, but qualified that he was three months ago and he did not then believe any more. Henehy said that he had accepted Kahn's testimony. Henehy returned to the stand, demanding to know if Kahn would swear that he had not denounced Henehy and the prosecution within the last month.

"Yes," said the witness, "I will swear it."

In the morning," said Henehy addressing the court, "I may put witnesses on the stand to prove this man is testifying falsely."

The prosecution today entered one peremptory challenge, the defense three. There remain to the former four challenges, to the latter seven. Three of the twelve veniremen accepted, probably last week were excused for cause when the case was resumed today. Seventeen other veniremen were examined, of whom seven were dismissed for cause. The day closed with the box holding eight jurors finally accepted and sworn to try the case. Three passed subject to peremptory challenge, and one—Kahn—held over in the balance.

The important question, "Will the prosecution call Abe Ruef as a witness?" was projected into the fore ground today by the examination of the late Mayor's testimony. A man who declared that he would not believe "one word that Ruef might say under oath or not," Henehy followed suit, declaring that if Henehy should subsequently disprove MacNevin's peremptory it would be a hint that he meant to call Ruef, and that if he accepted him finally the inference could be logically drawn that the filth and impurities of political boss world would take the stand against Ruef.

But Henehy went all this by returning MacNevin's testimony. "Ruef should have been called," Henehy said, "and if he had been called, he would have been called by the prosecution, and if he had been called by the prosecution, he would have been called by the prosecution."

"No," said Henehy, "the prosecution has not. And it can't because it is impossible for the prosecution to tell what evidence the defense may put on that would or would not make necessary the production of Ruef in rebuttal."

Over the protest of the defense Judge Lawlor allowed Henehy's challenge and dismissed MacNevin. The fifth juror to be excused by request of the prosecution after acceptance by the jury was George W. Jones. The jury will be completed by tomorrow night.

FESTIVITIES ATTEND STARTING RAILROAD

NOGALES, Ariz., Oct. 21.—Work upon the Nogales-Chihuahua branch of the Canadian, Yaqui River and Pacific Railroad was completed today by Great Brothers, railroad contractors. The building of the road will occupy about a year. Nowell Jordan, a representative of the road from El Paso, Texas, here secured rights of way for the line, which have been freely given by the land owners. A demonstration attended the commencement of work and hundreds of people witnessed the scene of activities today.

FATHER'S WIFE SWALLOWS ACID

STOCKTON, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Maud B. Lawell, wife of W. H. Lawell, a San Francisco contractor, committed suicide today by swallowing a quantity of acid. She had been the cause of the rash act. She had made the previous attempt. The husband attempted to prevent her taking the poison, and pursued her a hundred yards in an attempt to secure the deadly draught from her.

MAY RECOMMEND $200,000,000 BONDS

Island Waterways Commission to Report on Great System of Internal Improvement.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The Island Waterways Commission, whose report will be published late in November, will outline a gigantic system of improvements. The President will follow it up in his annual message to congress by urging that legislation be enacted at the coming session that will start the program going.

It is to be a network uniting the great lakes with the Mississippi valley streams and the latter with the Gulf, and linking the mouth of the Mississippi by the "western inner passage" with all the ports and the Rio Grande and by the eastern "inner passage" with Mobile bay and through the Suwanee river across Florida with the Atlantic seaboard, a network also uniting the distance around Delaware bay and Baltimore by cutting across New Jersey, connecting Delaware bay and Chesapeake bay by improving the existing Delaware and Maryland canal.

The whole is to be bound off by cutting through the isthmus of Cape Cod, affording a short route from Long Island sound into Massachusetts bay and Boston harbor.

But one important point is yet undecided. Several members of the commission favor a direct recommendation of a bond issue large enough—$200,000,000—to furnish the funds to start the great work. Fearing the criticism which usually follows any suggestion of a bond issue, other commission members hesitate at the proposition. The chances now are that a bond issue will be recommended.

FRANCIS JOSEPH IS MUCH BETTER

Last night was a good night for him and this has been a good day.

WHERE HAS WEBB GONE?

Has Attorney General Disappeared to Look Up Quietly Evidence of Rebating Acts?

(Special to Republican.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Attorney General Webb disappeared very mysteriously a reporter would say, to add to the mystery of his whereabouts. It is known that he is in the city, but he is better for the common weal to keep silent about it, for the attorney may be off on a very important mission for the state. Confidence is expressed at his office that he will show up sometime this week. He slipped away early last week, not to go duck hunting or engage in any other sports diversion, but to go "to Southern California," it was explained.

The attorney general may be off on a "plethora" expedition. He may have sought the Bureau of the Southern Pacific. Webb departed he announced that he was making an investigation of the rebating exposures involving the Southern Pacific company that were made in the recent hearing before Interstate Commerce Commissioner Lane. In a few days, he said, he would be prepared to announce the policy that he would pursue. Commissioner Lane has declared at Washington that the Southern Pacific had flagrantly violated the law and vigorous prosecution should be taken.

Webb called attention only to the violation of the interstate commerce laws. It was brought out in the testimony at the hearing that there had been much rebating on interstate traffic. These offenses come within the jurisdiction solely of the state officials and it was in these cases that Webb said he would set the law in motion if he could find the requisite laws on California's statute books.

Did he run post-haste off to Southern California to hunt out evidence? Is he on the trail of some big rebater rebated down there? True, he said he would investigate, the law first to ascertain if it provided for prosecution of such offenses and would be in a position to express his views "within a few days." But it can't be that he has gone south to hunt up the law. He must be detecting if he is doing anything at all.

This is all conjecturing on the mysterious disappearance. Meanwhile, the state is waiting to see how and when the Southern Pacific shall suffer. Webb is to reappear this week, according to his office assistants, none of whom know anything at all about the rebating matter. An air of mystery broods over the office. Expectancy must be patient and await the return of the attorney general.

SUNDAY CLOSING LAW TO HAVE MANY VICTIMS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 21.—A list containing the names of several hundred persons who yesterday violated the law against working on Sunday is being prepared today for presentation tomorrow to the grand jury. Indictments by the wholesale are expected. The list includes actors, actresses, theatrical managers and actresses and storekeepers. The theatrical managers are preparing to give hand-outs to their respective companies after they are released and it is believed they will be by the middle of the week. Judge William H. Wallace of the criminal court, who started the crusade, said today:

"I shall expect the jury to do its duty."

BIG GASBAGS SAIL IN NIGHT

Nine Balloons Turned Loose In St. Louis May Descend
Somewhere in the Dakotas.

THE GERMANS TOOK HIGHEST COURSE

About 100,000 People Saw the Casting Off of the Airships—
The Bright Moonlight Adds to Attractiveness of the Trip

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 21.—Drifting in a direction west of north, where they were last seen in the line of falling night and with a freshening southerly breeze behind them, nine big balloons are competing tonight for the honor attached to the winning of the second aeronautic cup race. A brilliant moon is shining throughout the middle west and conditions seem good for a record breaking flight.

A stiff wind would have been more welcome to the occupants of the wicker cars, which hung like tiny specks beneath the great globular bags, but the five mile breeze of the lower air strata gave promise of a splendid racing current in the higher altitudes. The Germans, acting upon their theory, reached for the higher courses right on the start. The French and English aeroplanes were more conservative and selected a middle depth, while the Americans raced away at an altitude which seemed to take them just clear of trees and house tops. So low, in fact, did two of the American teams balance their cars that there was grave danger of the baskets raking a crowded grandstand, and intense excitement prevailed. The St. Louis, one of the largest balloons in the race, came close to the stand that it was seized by a squad of soldiers, swept back to a safer point and sent away two minutes after the official word to go was given.

The Aerostats.

In the big race there are three balloons representing America, the representative Germany, two for France and one for England. The basket of each balloon contains two occupants; the pilot and his aide. With a prospect of the breeze holding to the southeast and south, many predictions were made tonight that the final landing place of the balloon winning would be in Minnesota or one of the Dakotas. Others held the opinion that the upper currents would send the craft further to the east, to find a place of descent out on Lake Michigan.

The records of the race established last year by Lieutenant Lahm, of the United States, in a flight from Paris to Flying Dale, in the north of England, is 402 miles, but each aerostat on the course today confidently expected to exceed the distance.

The start was spectacular in the extreme and was witnessed by a throng gathered in Forest Park variously estimated at from 60,000 to 150,000 persons.

The scenes attending the watching of the start and the preparations of the race was unique in American history. The day was brilliant with a touch of autumn chill in the air. In the enclosure of Forest Park given over to the aerostats the nine balloons were arranged in two rows, five being on one side of the central lane and four on the other.

Filling the Bags.

For four hours before the start a bag of gas was pumped simultaneously into each bag from a skeleton of specially constructed pipes leading from a gas tank in which was stored 4,000,000 cubic feet of the lightest gas that, according to aerostats, has ever been manufactured. When fully filled, each balloon resembles the rounded cover to some giant cushion.

Over each half globe was thrown the webbing which was to support the basket and its occupants. Clinging to the meshes of the webbing and holding the balloons safely to the ground were a number of green bags. The balloons remained half filled until an hour before the race, when the gas was turned on full force from the huge main and the bags expanded to their rounded fullness. None of the balloons was fitted with dirigible devices and the contest will be throughout a test of the skill of the navigators in taking advantage of the wind.

In handling the balloons to the best advantage.

As the balloons received their full charges of gas, the clinging sail bags were lowered, mesh by mesh, until at last they rested in groups of four, five and long ropes leading to basket. Carefully watched by two scores of helpers, each balloon was allowed to ascend enough to draw these bags to the sides of the baskets, where they remained until the word to start was imminent. Then enough of the balloon was lifted off to allow the balloons to float or move above the ground. At the last word all restraining bands were removed and each balloon in turn rose quietly to meet the breeze.

IRRIGATION DECISION IS NOT DISTURBED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The supreme court of the United States today declined to allow the Kansas vs. Colorado case to be re-opened by denying a petition for rehearing submitted by the state of Kansas. The case, which was an attempt on the part of Kansas to prevent the state of Colorado from using for irrigation purposes waters of the Arkansas river, was decided by the supreme court last spring in favor of Colorado.

HUNDREDS LOSE WORK BY ORDERS SUSPENDING MINES

TREDDING, Cal., Oct. 21.—In observance of orders received today from Boston, the Baskin Copper company at Coram stopped construction work today on the big smelter, now nearly completed at a cost of $1,000,000. Every man in the company's employ was dismissed, save enough to care for the machinery yet arriving. All accounts are to be closed and nothing will be done towards completing the smelter or reopening the mine until the copper market is more favorable.

The town of Coram, with a population of 1,000, was thunderstruck. It was expected that the smelter would start up before the new year. Now the opening is put off indefinitely or until copper is selling higher. But for the flurry in the copper market has made no difference in the copper camps of Keweenaw and Kennett, where the smelters are running as formerly and there is no talk of shutting down.

SEARCHING THE DESERT

Posse in Pursuit of the Negro Desperado Who Killed a Deputy Sheriff at Daggett.

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 21.—Out on the Mojave desert, near Mojave, Edward Silver, a negro who shot and killed Deputy Sheriff William Smith at Daggett on Saturday night, is in hiding while a posse of officers are beating the cactus covered ground in the effort to locate the murderer. Deputy Sheriff Reed of Mojave is leading the posse from Kern county and has joined in the chase with Sheriff Ralph of San Bernardino, in which county the murder was committed.

It was thought that the negro had made his escape on a train but it is certain now that he is in the stretch of country between Mojave and Bakersfield and a vigorous search is being made tonight.

Silver is known to have a thorough knowledge of the desert and is a desperate character. Kelly and his men are keeping close watch for Silver at this end of the valley.

Smith, who was a well known peace officer, passed through Bakersfield on Friday last week and hardly reached home when he was called upon to make the arrest that resulted in his death.

SHOT OVER MINE DEAL

Desperate Character Kills a Business Man at Globe, Then Escapes to Distant Camp.

GLOBE, Ariz., Oct. 21.—David James, one of the owners of the Globe Electric Light and Gas company, was shot and probably fatally wounded early this evening by H. F. Buckner. James was coming from the gas plant and when almost opposite the Klinsky hotel Buckner, who apparently had been waiting, rode up on a horse, fired and shot James through the heart.

Buckner made his escape. The sheriff is on his trail. He is supposed to have left for Globe, a mining camp eighteen miles from Globe. It is understood the reason for the shooting was trouble over mining claims. Buckner, during the day, had threatened to kill James and several other men, among them being N. C. Cotte, James' partner. It is believed that Buckner, who is a desperate character, will put up a fight when captured and blood is expected to be shed.

PENSION LIST IS LESS BY 18,600

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The decrease of 18,600 in the number of pensioners on the rolls at the end of the fiscal year 1907, as compared with the year previous, is the feature of the annual report of Pension Commissioner Warner, just issued. This is the greatest decrease in the history of the pension bureau.

KILLING OF A CHILD SECOND DEGREE MURDER

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—Narciso Latoro, a young Italian, was this evening convicted of murder in the second degree after the jury had deliberated for two hours. Latoro shot and killed Mary Sammarco, aged 12 years, the sister of a young woman whom he was visiting. The killing of the child was regarded as accidental, but the prosecution introduced evidence to show that Latoro attempted to murder a rival and that the bullet killed the child.

Slayer Commits Suicide.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Frank V. Gray, a singer employed at a cafe, shot and killed himself this morning by shooting himself in the head. Maude Acton, an employee of the same cafe, was awakened from sleep by the shot. No cause is assigned for the suicide.

REPUDIATION BLOW TO RYAN

Action of Officers of Lincoln-Roosevelt League in Denouncing Race Severe Blow.

THE LEAGUE HAD BEEN CAMPAIGN ARGUMENT

Justice of Act of Reading Him
Out for Failure to Stand for Principle Rather Than Ambition
Is Everywhere Seen.

(Special to Republican.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—The repudiation of Dan A. Ryan, Republican nominee for mayor, by the Lincoln-Roosevelt League of California, the state is about the most sensational turn that has yet occurred in the exciting local campaign and the wrath of the politicians in the candidate's camp gives proof of the importance of the action of the men in the interior. Ryan is now left high and dry with the job-chasing element, shorn of all pretense to being the representative of good government forces.

Ryan and his followers have been making use of the fact that he was a vice-president of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League in pleading their cause and one of their arguments has been that he would build up an "organization" in San Francisco. If elected mayor to help in the good work of driving Herrin and the corrupt from power and of electing an independent legislature. Twenty-three senators and assemblymen are to be chosen in this city at the election next year and it was pointed out what a force Ryan would be in the mayor's chair to bring about the selection of anti-Herrin men.

Agony of Ryan and his followers has been without their effect and his plausible reasoning was appealing to many Republicans. But now comes the Lincoln-Roosevelt League and sends the candidates' pretensions glimmering. Neither Ryan nor his followers had looked for such an upset. His chief prop, his chief argument against Mayor Taylor is gone.

The exhibition of indifference on the part of the League as to the aid of San Francisco in the cause and as to the election of those twenty-three legislators is a hard blow to the Ryan politicians. They are eager to pose as workers for reform and as Lincoln-Roosevelt men, and they thought that they were secure because of the compromise position they thought they would have with Ryan in the mayor's chair. They have been entertaining big ambitions in participation of state politics and hoped to be a dominating factor.

The action of the League in repudiating Ryan out of its fold indicates that the up-state men think a great deal of principle and that they will bend to no politician. It looks like a clarion call from Siskiyou to Imperial that "San Francisco can go to hell."

A warm place, so long as it does not care to act honestly with the League. The repudiation of Ryan appears to be a distinct asset to the League, the ally being to its cloud of disappointment over the young candidate's faithlessness to the cause. A political writer who had been skeptical about the success of the League, largely because he was looking at it from a San Francisco political viewpoint, expressed the following views to your correspondent:

"I feel very much encouraged by the course that the Lincoln-Roosevelt League has pursued toward Ryan. Ryan was pleased to see the great approval that was voiced for him throughout the state when he won his victory over Herrin at the primary election. Up and down the state Ryan was hailed as a leader and he immediately became the big man in the state. I was impressed with the sincerity of the League men in the cause of good government. They appeared to have no men to promote, no movements in view for any particular man or men. They seemed to be hunting for good men and to be willing to give their untalented support to any man who worked for their cause."

From all over the state came the praises for Ryan, a new man but apparently an able leader. He was on a fair way to high honors. In other words, no stigma of job-chasing could attach to that spirit that the League displayed."

"And again, when Ryan failed them, the League men were swift to repudiate him. They have been hammering him good and hard throughout the state, and for his trifling he has been punished completely so far as the state is concerned. Herrin has been laughing over the discrediting of Ryan, but the seriousness of the Lincoln-Roosevelt men in the interior as evinced by their bold repudiation is going to sober him. I like the honest way and forceful way that the League is going at things."

CONSUL REFUSED AID TO SHIPWRECKED MEN

HONOLULU, Oct. 21.—Captain Thomas of Oakland, California, and crew of the schooner Carri and Annie which was wrecked on Spataraki Island, August 27th, returning on the steamship Ama, they complain that no assistance was given them by the American consul at Vladivostok.

COMPERS WILL FIGHT FOR RIGHT OF SPEECH

Declares the "Unfair List" Comes Under This Category of Privileges.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Defiance of the Federal courts in any effort to restrain him from exercising his right of free speech was uttered today by Samuel Compers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in addressing the Chicago Federation of Labor. Compers described to the meeting the injunction which the National Association of Manufacturers had asked to restrain him and other labor officials from publishing a list of manufacturers who are considered unfair to organized labor.

"No matter what the outcome of the injunction may be," he said, "I shall continue to exercise my right of free speech. It may be well for newspapers and magazines to take notice of this injunction, for if it is enforced the right of free speech and a free press are abolished in this country."

"Liberty never is stolen wholesale. It is stolen in little bits, a little at a time. Organized labor will stand for free speech and a free press. We did not secure the right of free speech so that we might say nice things about the government."

"If this injunction is issued it may not be long until we find some of our weekly and monthly publications restrained from publishing certain subjects. We must continue our efforts to defeat for public office a man who is not fair to labor—whether he is a candidate for President, a member of the Cabinet or Justice of the Peace."

MAY BUY PENINSULA

Purchase of Lower California from Mexico to Be Urged at Coming Session of Congress

(Special to Republican.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Interest in the proposed purchase of Lower California by the United States has taken on a new earnestness, chiefly because of the new phase created by the building of the canal at Panama, and it is more than probable that some action in this direction will be taken at the coming session of congress. Representative A. A. Hayes of San Jose believes strongly in the acquisition of the peninsula, because of its strategic importance if for no other reason, and will be among the advocates at Washington of any measure opening the way for negotiations with Mexico.

That the intemperate attitude Representative Hayes has taken is well indicated by the following editorial in Collier's Weekly, showing that the country at large has taken a new interest:

"Were the United States ready to buy new territory, probably it could at this time make no more valuable acquisition than the peninsula of Lower California. Aside from the value of the land itself, its possession would undoubtedly add much strength to any position which we might be forced to assume in relation to international politics on the Pacific, and would do much to augment our national muscles, which, as the president has often pointed out, are clearly, must be ready for the regulation and defense of the Panama canal. A well protected coasting station somewhere within striking distance of the Pacific mouth of the canal is a necessity which is recognized."

"Moreover, for strategic purposes in case of a war that issued from Asiatic waters, the Gulf of California, narrow, 700 miles long, and partly fortified by batteries at Cape San Lucas, and at advantageous points on the Eastern side of the peninsula, would be, in its function as a harbor and as a base for supply and coaling depots, invaluable to our forces on the Pacific. Puget Sound in the north is at present the most available refuge from a hard-pressed squadron, and is so far away from the canal as to render almost the possible of assistance coming from Atlantic waters."

The suggestion of the purchase is not new; many years ago it was discussed in Washington, but the rise of Atlantic powers and the canal project have more than doubled the desirability of the possession. The purposes of Mr. Bryan's visit to Mexico were not very well defined. That his excursion was prompted in part by the administration's interest in Lower California is not beyond reasonable belief."

Representative Hayes, in an interview, pointed to the sending of the fleet to this side of the continent as evidence of the naval importance that the Pacific has assumed and to the inadequacy of the present facilities for caring for the warships. "On the Atlantic," he said, "there is but one coast line to protect but on the Pacific the United States must guard both sides. The Gulf of California offers much great advantage that we should not be slow to seize upon them. This is a matter in which California has a large national interest. Our government should approach the proposition in a liberal spirit. I believe that the purchase can be effected and that it will prove of incalculable value. I shall do what I can to have negotiations set on foot."

PRETENDER DEFEATS SULTAN

Mulai Hafig Overwhelmingly Victorious Over His Brother
In Struggle for Throne.

DETAILS OF CONTEST ARE VERY MEAGRE

Successful Leader Restrains
Following, Who Want a Holy War, and Guarantees Protection to Foreign Merchants

TANGIER, Oct. 21.—On October 20th between Mulai Hafig and Moukarram occurred the first battle between the forces of Sultan Abdul Aziz and Mulai Hafig, contender for the throne, and known as the Sultan of the South. The latter was overwhelmingly victorious and the triumph is of great importance as strengthening the sentiment in favor of Mulai Hafig.

According to reports just received from Massagan, eight regiments of the pretender troops under command of Mulai Rachid defeated the Sultan's troops and captured several pieces of modern field artillery, together with a large number of arms and ammunition. The Sultan's army, under command of Mulai Hafig, was defeated.

During the night of October 17th, some of Mulai Hafig's men made a third raid on the Sultan's camp at Massagan and seized 100,000 cartridges and on the following night they made a fourth raid on the same place and captured 200,000 more cartridges.

The first division of the imperial troops, consisting of 800 men, destined for Mogador, arrived at Tangier today. Communication with Mogador is interrupted.

The officials at Massagan have received information to the effect that Mulai Hafig started on October 17th for Charrab. His district between Tangier and Fez.

Hafig has issued a notice to the effect that he guarantees the protection of all foreigners at Morocco City, inviting certain foreigners who have gone to Massagan to return to Morocco City and resume their business there and ordering his representatives to furnish them with everything necessary to enable them to make their return trip to the capital of the South.

Hafig is showing a strong hand in controlling certain Moorish sects which are demanding the proclamation of a holy war, to which he is unalterably opposed.

Some of Hafig's followers have deserted him and come to Tangier. This native report of the desertions gives as a reason for the desertions that Hafig, in retaliation for French interference in the steps taken to secure the release of Sultan Abdul Aziz, intends to "kill" Mulai Hafig by force.

"The announcing of a French decree not allowing party while proceeding yesterday from Casa Blanca in the direction of Tangier, resulted in the killing of Captain Janday and a private of the Chasseurs d'Afrique and the wounding of six men, and it is said has resulted in the reumption of hostilities on the part of the French troops commanded by General Drude."

The importance of the disturbance in the southern part of the empire is proved by the departure from Tangier today of the French squadron. The warships are running south under full steam. They were mobilized by means of the wireless telegraph.

France May Intervene.

PARIS, Oct. 21.—The government has full information of the desperate field night of the Sultan of Morocco, who has only sufficient funds to last a few days. Temporary relief has been obtained by a loan of $200,000 upon the imperial jewels and this money will be sent to the Sultan at once by cable. Larger sums, however, are urgently needed. The government will remain true to the Algerian treaty, although it is recognized that unless the legitimate Sultan is supported, he is likely to proclaim a holy war, which would mean the impossibility of a single European remaining in the interior of Morocco and complete anarchy in the country for years. France, therefore, considers that the interests of power will be promoted by its intervention.

ILLINOIS IS FOR
ROOSEVELT OR CANNON

SALT LAKE, Utah, Oct. 21.—Former Governor Richard Yates of Illinois, who stopped over in Salt Lake today on his way to Idaho, where he is engaged in a law suit, said that Illinois was for Speaker Cannon for President unless President Roosevelt became a candidate, in which case Mr. Cannon and the entire Republican strength of the state would be for Roosevelt.

BEEF REBATE CASE IN SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The Supreme court of the United States today took jurisdiction of the meat packers' case wherein Armour, Swift, Morris and Cudahy Packing companies were fined $15,000 for accepting a preferential from the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad on shipments of meat for export from Mississippi river points to the Atlantic seaboard. The case involves the application of the Elkins act to export shipments. The motion for a writ of certiorari was granted.

GRAND PARLOR TO MEET IN THE YOSEMITE VALLEY

Merced Natives Planning for the Big Event.

Return Roberts' Automobile Takes Fire—Big Clean-Up at Stock Auction.

MERCED, Oct. 21.—The Merced Parlor of Native Sons is holding a good many entertainments this year, with a view to raising funds for the entertainment of the Grand Parlor next year, which will be held in Yosemite Valley, with a day's entertainment in Merced. The novelty of holding a grand lodge meeting in Yosemite Valley was made possible by the building of the Yosemite Valley railroad from this city to the gateway of the valley—the terminus of the railroad being called El Portal.

R. Roberts, the Madera banker, and his son, Frank, and three ladies came into Merced this morning in a big touring car, from the body of which flames burst forth. J. C. Hartman, a local merchant, rushed to the rescue with a fire extinguisher and the flames were quickly subdued, without material damage. If the accident had occurred on a country road it would have doubtless resulted in the destruction of the machine and great discomfort to the tourists.

A mill for making sorghum molasses on a large scale for commercial purposes, has just been received by Messrs. Russell and Brannan of Stevenson colony—one of Merced county's comparatively new and very flourishing colonies, which is near the San Joaquin and Merced rivers.

General Funston passed through Merced yesterday on his way to Yosemite Valley. He was accompanied by Major Benson, who is in command of the two troops of cavalry stationed in the valley. The soldiers will leave the valley November 4th.

The Snelling dredging company is still buying land along the Merced river.

The manager of the Chowchilla stock farm, Isaac Bird, placed on sale Saturday seventy-three horses and twenty-nine mules. It was the largest stock sale ever held here and was attended by farmers and stockmen of Merced, Stanislaus, Madera and other counties. The auctioneers, N. H. Wilson of Merced and J. H. Corley of Modesto, presided. The sale commenced at 9:30 and continued until 4. All the animals were sold. The prices were good and the work horses were in the majority, but there were also many saddle horses. Some of the animals brought from $200 to nearly $300. Approximately $15,000 was realized. The Chowchilla stock farm is owned principally by an immensely wealthy Scottish company. It comprises about 110,000 acres.

Mrs. C. P. Ingram of San Francisco is the guest of her sister, Mrs. George Deane.

H. J. Hinds, the Wells-Fargo express agent, and his wife were called by illness by the death of Mrs. Hinds' father, Mr. Donnelly.

Judge C. H. Marks, who became a practitioner of law in Merced soon after the founding of the town in 1873 and was superior judge for two terms, commencing in 1880, has removed to Martinez.

JEWELS STOLEN BY NURSE GIRL FOUND

BERKELEY, Oct. 21.—Investigations made by the police since the arrest of 18-year-old Florence or Dorothy Stein, as she is sometimes called, a nurse-maid charged with stealing gems from her employer's home, failed to connect her with other crimes committed in the bay cities. A diamond ring valued at $150—one of the most valuable of the articles stolen, was recovered by the detectives from an Oakland pawnshop. The girl, according to the police, pawned the jewel under the name of Dorothy Owen. She realized $20 on it. The stolen jewels have all been recovered and will be returned to Miss Hazel Shoenberger, a relative of Mrs. J. F. O'Brien, from whose house in Telegraph avenue they were stolen.

Miss Stein said that her brother was Morris Stein, manager of the Empire theatre in Oakland. Her father, she said, was owner of the Iroquois theatre in Chicago at the time of the fire a few years ago, when hundreds of lives were lost. Her stepfather, Owen, is a New York, while her mother is in Los Angeles. She will be arraigned Tuesday.

ROBBED HIS FATHER OF SUM OF MONEY

BERKELEY, Oct. 21.—During the absence of the family at church today Victor Carlson, fifteen years old, living at 2113 Carlton street, packed up his garments and disappeared with $250 belonging to his father, Joseph Polmers, who is connected with the Miller-Walker grocery company, Dwight way and Shattuck avenue. Victor was believed to have gone to Sunday school this morning. Instead he waited until his folks were well away from the house. Then he gathered his effects together, packed them in a valise and disappeared. He left well equipped for a brief session as a juvenile prodigy, for he stole from his hiding place the cash which his father kept over Sunday in the house. When the family returned at noon it was suspected nothing. Not until later were the money and clothing missed. With the failure of the youth to return tonight a report was made to the police.

Oregon Gets Prisoner.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 21.—A requisition on the state for the return to Oregon of J. Greenbaum, wanted there for embezzlement, was honored at the governor's office last night by Secretary Mitchell. Greenbaum is charged with embezzling quite a sum of money in Multnomah county, Oregon. He fled to San Francisco, where he was apprehended and is now being held pending the arrival of an officer from the northern state.

GIRDERS HAVE ARRIVED FOR THE COURTHOUSE

Construction Will Be Rushed on South Wing.

Englishman Saves $24 on Hunting License By Becoming American Citizen.

VISALIA, Oct. 21.—The six steel girders for use on the second and third floors of the south wing to the courthouse, lack of which has been delaying construction on that department for several days, have arrived and will be put in place at once. The vault on the first floor of the north wing to be used by the auditor is to be completed within a few weeks so that records now stored in the auditor's present office for lack of vault room, may have a safe repository.

The newly organized Visalia town team defeated the Exeter eleven at football Sunday afternoon on the local grounds, the score being 6 to 0. The teams were very evenly matched. Next Sunday a game will be played with Tulare and the week following a return match will take place at Exeter.

Basil Pryor of Lindsay, a native of England, took out his final naturalization papers today. His witnesses being H. Buckbaum of Lindsay and Robert Horbach of Porterville. He immediately purchased a hunting license, paying therefor $1. Without the papers the license would have cost him $25.

A movement is on foot to beautify the grounds of the First M. E. church by the planting of flowers and shrubbery and a general meeting of all departments of the church has been called for Saturday to accomplish this purpose.

The funeral of Mrs. J. G. Beales, who died Sunday morning in this city, will take place at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, the interment being in the city cemetery. Mrs. Beales suffered a stroke of paralysis the 1st of March and has since been bedridden. She was a native of New Hampshire, 74 years of age. She leaves several sons and daughters, among the number A. Q. Beales, formerly of Fresno, and Frank Beales of this city, besides her husband, who survives her. The Relief Corps, of which deceased was a member in the East, will have charge of the ceremonies.

Fifteen members of Visalia Commandery, Knights Templar, including Dan McFadden, T. Hayes, Charles Kinkler, A. H. Murray, Jr., J. F. Jordan, S. J. Gilbert, C. H. Hays, C. H. Mills, A. B. Linder, E. O. Larkin, W. B. Wallace, Len Cutler, T. M. Rice and E. J. Fudge attended the funeral of the late J. W. Davis in Porterville Sunday and acted as escort to the cemetery. The floral pieces were many and beautiful.

The remains of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Pritchard, which died Sunday, were taken to Fresno Sunday for interment.

Word has been received that the new pastor of the First M. E. church is on his way to this city from North Dakota, and will arrive the latter part of the week.

HIGH LIFE SCANDAL AGITATES GERMANY

Libel Suit Will Bring Out Details of the "Round Table" Affair.

BERLIN, Oct. 21.—Germany is consumed with excitement over the Moltke-Harden libel suit trial, which begins in Berlin next Wednesday. It is expected that the court proceedings will reveal the most nauseating assortment of scandal ever related in a German law court, as Editor Harden has determined to lay bare relentlessly the secrets of the Kaiser's inner "Round Table," for the publication of some facts relating to which Count von Moltke, late military commander of Berlin is suing him for criminal libel.

Harden has summoned a distinguished army of witnesses including Prince von Buelow, Prince Philip Eulenberg, who was head of the "Round Table" group, Lieutenant General Count Hohenhausen, who is chief of the Kaiser's military cabinet, and a dozen other prominent officers, noblemen, editors and the managers. Two of the most interesting witnesses will be Count Moltke's divorced wife, who is supposed to have furnished Harden with much of his evidence, and Professor Dr. Magnus Hirschfeld, an eminent medical authority on degeneracy.

All the members of the "Round Table" who fell from grace when the scandal first started last spring, including Lieutenant General Count Hohenhausen, Major Count Johannes Lynar, and the French-embassy attaché, Raymond Lecomte, will be summoned. Harden's counsel will also summon a number of officers and privates from the Garde du Corps, who are expected to disclose some painful facts.

It is understood powerful influence has been brought to bear on Count von Moltke, in order to persuade him if possible, to abandon the prosecution and avoid the inevitable disgrace which the trial will bring upon the most respected families in the empire. The Count thus far has been adamant to all such appeals, maintaining that he will be able to thoroughly disprove Harden's grave insinuations. German judges have a right to exclude the public, including press representatives, from trials which deal with unmentionable topics; therefore it is possible that the popular appetite for graphic details of this cause celebre will remain unsatisfied.

Daughter's Death Killed Mother. OREGON, Mo., Oct. 21.—When Mrs. Jonathan Culp received a telephone message here last night saying her daughter, Mrs. Bill Allen, had been killed by a shock from an electric light wire, she dropped dead. Mother and daughter will be buried in the same grave.

STILL CAN'T AGREE ON FRANCHISE GRANT

Supervisors Present Terms Today to Granger.

Local Bar Appoints Committee to Pass on Constitutionality of 2 Per Cent Law.

HANFORD, Oct. 21.—At 4 o'clock this afternoon on the board of supervisors adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow without having been able to come to satisfactory terms with S. T. Granger regarding the electric road franchise. As the matter now stands, District Attorney J. L. C. Irwin is working over time preparing the terms upon which the supervisors will offer the franchise for sale. If the conditions meet with the approval of F. F. Granger and his attorney, H. P. Brown, the whole matter will be settled shortly after 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The bar association, which met in the court room this morning for the purpose of considering the constitutionality of the 2 per cent clause in the law regarding the electric railway franchise, appointed the following committee to report Saturday night: E. T. Foster, J. C. C. Russell and W. R. Miller.

GIRL IS CHOKED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Bad Accident Near Santa Rosa—When Machine Turns Over, Fatally Injuring Passenger.

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 21.—One of the worst automobile accidents which has ever occurred in Sonoma county took place within half a mile of the city limits shortly before midnight Saturday, and as a result David Murray, a hop buyer from Sacramento live at the Santa Rosa hospital, dying and several prominent Santa Rosans are nursing broken bones and bruises or lacerated bodies.

The escape of Miss Dot Rankin, a popular society girl, is deemed little short of miraculous. Flung down by the auto, the back of which fell across her throat, she was slowly choking to death, and was resuscitated only after long continued efforts by physicians.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Talmage of Mount Olivet had taken a party of friends for a moonlight ride after a supper given by Milton Wassaman to a number of friends. Others in the party were C. Donovan, a well known local politician and wealthy hop dealer, William Maddux, a wealthy hop grower of Mark West; Louis Rosenberg of San Francisco, a brother in law of Wassaman; Miss Ella Noonan, daughter of P. H. Noonan of this city; and Miss Rankin.

The car, a sixty horse power Thomas Flyer, was coming toward town at a fairly good rate when a piece of sprinkled highway was reached. The car skidded. Talmage, who was at the wheel, threw on his axle clutches suddenly. The car turned half way round and whirled completely over, landing with the running gear in the air.

Murray, Talmage, Wassaman, Miss Noonan and Miss Rankin were caught under the heavy car and pinned to the ground, while the other members of the party were thrown clear of the wreck and escaped with minor cuts, bruises and lacerations. They were all stunned but Donovan, who brought help from a nearby residence. The heavy car was lifted sufficiently to remove the bodies of the unconscious men and women from under it.

Word was telephoned into town and a corps of physicians responded. The nurse injured were hurried to the hospital, while the others were brought to the offices of physicians in this city, where their injuries were dressed.

David Murray's skull was fractured and he has concussion of the brain. The attending physician holds out no hope of his recovery. He remains unconscious.

Milton Wassaman, who is a hop buyer for William Uhlman & Co., of New York city, suffered a fractured shoulder and was cut about the face and body.

Miss Noonan's shoulder blade was broken and she was severely injured. There is fear that she suffered internal injuries.

The other ladies suffered severe nervous shock and were badly bruised and cut about the head and face. Talmage is injured in the spine, but how severely is not known. Donovan escaped without a scratch.

CHARGE GOUCHER WITH INATTENTIONS TO DUTIES

Madera Supervisors Want Him Removed.

Will Ask Judge Conley to Call the Grand Jury to Hear Charges.

MADERA, Oct. 21.—The board of supervisors have taken steps to have District Attorney S. G. Goucher removed from office. Supervisors Sledge, Crow and Warner signed a call for a special meeting of the board for next Friday, at which time it is the intention to pass a resolution calling upon Judge Conley to summon the grand jury so that charges may be presented against Goucher. It is proposed to proceed against Goucher under section 74a and following of the penal code, for wilful or corrupt misconduct in office. Section 771 provides that the accusation must be delivered by the foreman of the grand jury to the clerk, and by him to a judge of the superior court of the county, who must thereupon appoint some one to act as prosecuting officer in the matter, or place the accusation in the hands of the district attorney of an adjoining county and require him to conduct the proceedings. The following section provides for summary dismissal for refusal or neglect to perform the duties of his office.

This move has been contemplated by the supervisors for some time. At the last meeting of the board the members drew lots to determine which one should prefer the charges against the district attorney and the duty devolved upon Supervisor Warner.

The board has taken this step on account of the ineffectuality of Mr. Goucher. The members say there is no feeling in the matter, but that it is a duty that they owe to the county, as they charge that the business of the district attorney's office has been grossly neglected. Goucher is at present "confined" to his home, and has been for some weeks. His present condition is said to be due to drink.

Goucher has known that such a move was contemplated, but he has declared that he will not give up his office, but will fight all attempts to remove him.

Goucher is one of the best known men in this part of the state. He began the practice of law with brilliant promise, but his career was wrecked by drink. He served three terms as district attorney of Mariposa county. He also served one term in the assembly and represented Fresno and Madera counties in the state senate in the sessions of 1886, 1888, 1890 and 1902. He practiced law in Fresno for a while, returning to Mariposa, and finally moving to Madera. He was elected district attorney at the last election.

Stevens & Co. had a lease on a store situated at 128-133 North Spring street, Los Angeles, with the intention of opening a ladies' cloak suit and millinery store. THE FRESNO MORNING REPUBLICAN

CHESTER H. ROWELL, Editor and Manager

THE EXAMINER FOR RYAN

The Examiner, along with a new managing editor, has experienced a change of heart and acquired a policy. In the beginning—that is, a month or so ago—it did have a policy, and one quite worthy of the original Memphisian, "the spirit that ever denies." It was opposed to all the candidates for mayor—openly against Ryan, whose candidacy it described as "a grotesque piece of fronting"; sneeringly against Taylor, whose women's auxiliaries, with their pink teas, it reported with mock seriousness, and timidly against McCarthy, whose cause it discredited by emphasizing the numerous bolts from it following this policy of negative negation. The Examiner was passive negation. The Examiner was neither for or against anything or anything. Now comes suddenly a tremendous shriek for Ryan, as the one candidate fit to lead San Francisco on to peace and prosperity.

The how and the wherefore it were superfluous to inquire, and the consequences it is vain to anticipate. The most striking present fact is that the three Republican papers in San Francisco are supporting the Democratic candidate for mayor, while the only Democratic paper is supporting the Republican candidate. However, we may perhaps hazard some guesses, looking to the past and the future. The Examiner was opposed to Taylor's appointment, because it had tried to get in its own man instead. It stood for Laibson when he took Examiner orders and deserted him when he declared his independence. It repudiated McCarthy only when he failed to take further orders. These, then are the terms on which Examiner support has been granted and denied to others. It has been denied to Ryan, through half a campaign. By the Examiner's own announcement, not one of its executive staff knew Ryan or anything about him. Yet his "support was contemplated" in pursuance of which contemplation Ryan was interviewed. Then the Examiner came out for him. The conclusion is obvious, and it made none the less so by the statement, doubtless literally true, attributed to Ryan, that no express promises were made or asked. These things are not done by express pledges. Gillett did not promise Herrin the disposal of any patronage. But when he got elected, he found he had to turn over the patronage just the same.

As to the future, we can not see that the Examiner's support can turn to Ryan any votes that would naturally have gone to Taylor. We are not sure that it can turn any sort of votes, but if it can, they will be likely to be labor unionists, turned from McCarthy to Ryan. There may be some advantage in that, even if it changes Ryan from a bad third to a lame second. However, the reverse effect of the Examiner's support on partisan Republicans, who were the bulk of Ryan's strength, is more than likely to counteract any positive influence, with the laboring men.

It is interesting, by the way, to see all the San Francisco papers proving each other guilty of bluffing and untruthfulness in this campaign. No wonder they lack influence! The call and the Chronicle made the blunder of trying to cable Ryan with obviously unimpaired flattery. The Examiner was against everybody. Now they quote each other against themselves. And they all prove their case.

There need be no undue condemnation of Ryan. He has become frankly an office-seeker, and he is taking support wherever he can get it. There is nothing wrong in that save the exceptional odds, and the exceptional pledge which he made, and broke, to meet it. He has done, not wrong, but something less than the high degree of right, which the situation demanded. And he has his reward. Instead of the certainty of a high position at service, in a great reform, he has the chance of a high office. If he considers this a fair exchange, there could be no better evidence that, for him, it is. And if it is office he wants, what difference does it make whether he gets it from the Republican League or from the Independence League?

PAPER

Fresno packers are considering the use of paper instead of wood for "rain" boxes. "California" apple and orange growers would get rich if they could make, as a profit, just half the price of the boxes in which their ship their fruit. Funny thing a "car" is shipped East, in the form of boxes, which are wasted after they arrive. From twenty to thirty per cent of the cost of many fruits is the cost of the boxes they are in. There are articles of food in which the wooden box costs more than the goods it contains. And the price is going up, every week. The use of wood in which to pack anything but very heavy or very expensive articles is already an extravagance. Soon it will become an impossibility.

The only recourse is paper, and that will not stand moisture. At least, ordinary paper will not. But the inquiry which has made paper boxes for Pullman cars will surely be able to make paper boxes for raisins or oranges which will be serviceable. And when that is accomplished, we shall find ten thousand other uses for paper, as a substitute for wood, cloth or metal.

The trouble is, the price of paper is going up, too. Paper is made mostly of wood, and its only economy is that it takes less of it to serve as a covering. The paper forests are being depleted, as well as the lumber forests, and any increase in the use of paper will only hasten the depletion and increase the price. The price of the paper on which newspapers are printed has risen so rapidly as to make a radical change in the character of newspapers imminent. The huge Sunday editions, with their scores of pages of space-filling rubbish, will have to give way to new features, of better quality and less quantity. The half-hourly afternoon editions in the big cities will be curtailed, so that extra editions will be issued only when there is extra news. And so the present supply of wood-pulp will be stretched to last a little longer at not too much above present prices.

But eventually the pressure will come for a new source of paper supply. Doubtless the resort will have to be to tropical jungles. There are unlimited annual crops of fibrous material which require only properly adapted machinery to transform them into paper. There is no question of denuding forests, where the land raises three full crops a year without limit. There is the material and the water. Only labor and transportation are lacking. Money will get the transportation. And it may be that paper mills to supply the world with newspapers, books, boxes, furniture, houses, clothing, and nearly everything else will be the final industry which shall teach the tropical man that wages are worth working for.

LAND AND SCHEME

Aside from any issue to be settled by the water-drinking challenge in the Peters land controversy, it should be distinctly realized that no charge has been made that the Peters land is a swindle. The charge was that the scheme was a swindle. This distinction between the land and the scheme must always be kept in view. In any of these land issues, the best land in Fresno county would have been the subject of a swindle if it had been sold as developed land, under the false pretense that it was developed, at a time when it was not developed. The land involved in this present controversy is good, if water can be had, and it is now promised to get water. The land is not a swindle, if the water is developed. But the scheme was a swindle, if it was a scheme to sell this land on the assertion that wells were being bored that were not to be bored; that a ditch was being constructed which was not being constructed and would not have reached this land if it were; that five acres of the land with water would make a self-supporting home when it will not do so, and that the land is located much nearer to Fresno than it is located. No possible steps to make the land good can make this scheme good, and no defense of the land is to any point, as against an attack on this scheme. There is good land on the West Side, and it is no evidence that there is water there. Where the water and the land can be brought together, the proposition is a good one. The best protection for good schemes to sell good land is to repudiate bad schemes to sell either good or bad land.

An osteomed and always up-to-date contemporary editorially discusses Ryan's plight from lack of a newspaper on his side. Is it the insinuation that the Examiner is not a newspaper? Or is it merely an occasion for the application of the Sacramento Bazaar familiar advice "get contemporaneous."

STEAMER ON ROCKS

British Vessel With Valuable Coal Cargo May Be Lost, But Crew All Get Off In Safety.

FRESNO CITY, Cal., Oct. 21.—The British steamer Queen Christina is hard and fast on the rocks about four miles off the coast from this place. She ran aground at 1:40 o'clock this morning in a heavy fog. The place of the disaster is on the south side of Point St. George.

The Queen Christina left San Francisco for Portland, Ore., at 7 p. m., October 19th to load wheat. When off Crescent City, the steamer was on a northerly course in a dense fog. A current of about four miles an hour brought the vessel into the rocks. The lookouts suddenly saw a dark object loom up ahead and shouted a warning, but it was too late. Captain Harris, called all hands on deck to man the boats and the crew immediately began the work of provisioning them. At 7:30 Chief Officer Morris and fifteen men took one of the lifeboats to seek aid here and reached Crescent City at 10:15 a. m.

The vessel is hard aground with rock all about her. When she struck the current swung her bow on to the sea and the vessel lies on an even keel 250 yards from shore in seventeen feet of water.

The pumps were kept going until 10 o'clock, when the rising water in the hold put out the fires. The water was between decks when the remainder of the crew left at 12:30 o'clock and they were picked up by the steamer Navarro four miles from the wreck. The entire crew was now here.

The Queen Christina was a new vessel. She has on board 30,000 tons of coal for steaming, and much valuable gear. If good weather continues she may be saved.

County Superintendent Lindsay was out in the country yesterday and visited Redbanks school, beyond Clovis, a small institution, which he reported is doing nicely, with a good attendance.

Jefferson district opened yesterday in its new school house, one of the prettiest in the county, according to the notions of Mr. Lindsay. Miss Nellie Hamilton is the principal and has a staff of three assistant teachers.

Mr. Lindsay has also visited the schools at Bryant and Mersey, that at Dos Palos town and the joint union high school there. The latter is a newly formed school district, partly in the county and partly in Merced.

The school has opened with twenty-six pupils and the staff of teachers comprises L. L. Evans as principal, with Miss Maybelle O'Brien and Devena Kruder as the teachers.

Bryant was reported to have a school with a large enrollment of fifty in the primary and from thirty-eight to forty in the upper grades.

But it was of Mersey that Mr. Lindsay had words of praise. It is the smallest and yet best attended school in the county. It has been in session two months this term and not yet has there been an absence or tardiness noted. Bless little Mersey, the school has only seven pupils.

Mr. Lindsay's report on the school located about one mile from the school, is about to be re-opened and the people of the district expect that several families will move in and increase the school enrollment.

YARD SWITCHMEN FORM LOCAL UNION

The switchmen of Fresno now have a union. Twenty-nine of the employees of the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe signed the charter, Sunday, when J. F. Seymour, president of the American Federation of Labor, came here to organize the union. The switchmen are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and the new union is eligible to join the federal trades. It is stated that the organization was not formed for the purpose of making any demands upon the company. Its purpose, according to the organizer, is to provide first-class yard help and to protect the public and local merchants against irresponsible class of men who float into a town, run a lot of bills and then disappear.

HEAVY EARTHQUAKE IN THE SOUTH SEAS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The weather bureau today announced that its instruments registered an earthquake beginning at 11 o'clock last night and lasting until early this morning, and that its origin may have been at a point west of Australia in the Southern Indian ocean. It is believed to have been of considerable intensity at its origin.

PROSIT!

Here's a health to you, old fellow! Drink her down!

Till your're comfortably mellow. Drink her down!

Here's a tongue that's parched and aching. Drink her down!

And a hand that's hot and shaking. And a morning head that's aching! Drink her down!

Here's success to you, old chum! Drink her down!

Just get gloriously happy. Drink her down!

Here's your precious time all trifled. And your energies quite trifled. And your brains of wisdom trifled! Drink her down!

Well, here's happiness, old crony! Drink her down!

Here's your best friend's glances. Drink her down!

Drink her down!

When you get to soiling double. How your happiness will bubble. Well, here's poverty and trouble! Drink her down!

IN THE LODGE ROOM.

Fresno lodge No. 155, last night at a well attended meeting conferred the third degree upon three candidates—Robert A. Franklin, W. B. Carter and John Welschmiller. Visitors were present from three Eastern states. They were: J. S. Wertz of Chicago, A. E. Boston of Hartford, Conn., and Charles H. Crow of Charleston, Mass. Each made a short talk on the order in his home town, bringing good news and fraternal greetings. Short addresses were also made by local members. Beginning next week the roll call will commence, each member being expected to have something to say when his name is called. As there are 400 members it will be several weeks before the end will have been reached.

Pocahontas Degree. Pocahontas degree enjoyed a female supper last evening, thanks to the entertainment committee. There was a good attendance to enjoy the supper. The dance announced for the 30th was indefinitely deferred owing to a death in the lodge. Next Monday night there will be an election for the position of keeper of records, vice Mrs. Beasie Heister, deceased.

Elks. Fresno lodge, B. P. O. E. did not hold its announced initiation last night, its being postponed to November 4th, when the deputy grand exalted ruler is expected. The lodge held its usual business meeting last night.

Fraternal Brotherhood. The Fraternal Brotherhood last night initiated Miss Elsie L. Smith. A members' social was enjoyed, and interest in the membership contest was reported at fever heat. A feature of the evening was an address by the Rev. A. P. Brown. Next Monday night the lodge will observe its eighth anniversary.

Hatching By Electricity. After several years of experimental work electric incubation has been demonstrated to be practicable and economical for attractive displays.

"Electrohen" a unique and artistic oval glass electric incubator has been invented. It is operated by the heat of an electric incandescent lamp, controlled by a delicate and sensitive thermostat which holds the temperature at 103 degrees Fahrenheit, without the variation of more than a fraction of a degree.

The "Electrohen" is a novel glass electric incubator, having a metal base, with nickel-plated oxidized copper or gun-metal finish, forming the lower or drawer is provided which is partly drawn from the base and the electric chicks run about in the fenced enclosure, about three or four feet square, making a most enterprising exhibit or native study in schools and kindergartens.

This device is easily connected to any electric lighting circuit, either alternating or direct current, of 110 volts, by the usual flexible cord and plug. It is only necessary to turn the button and sufficient heat is provided for hatching and brooding the chicks, while there is nothing in the way of water or escaping gases to prevent its introduction into the hands of the electrically equipped home or the office of the most fastidious professional or business man.—Technical World Magazine.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 21.—Mr. Fish gave out a statement tonight in which he claims to have had a majority of from thirty to fifty thousand when the count of proxies was abandoned.

General Conditions.

An area of high pressure central over the Ohio Valley and the Lake region dominates the country east of the Rocky mountains accompanied by generally fair, cool weather. Light rains fell over the middle Atlantic states. Also in Kansas and northern Texas. Heavy frost occurred at Santa Fe, and New York and killing frost at Buffalo. Moderately low pressure occupies Western Canada, and another low is approaching the coast of southern California. With the exception of light rain at Reno, there is a notable absence of precipitation in the states west of the Rocky mountains. Conditions are becoming unsettled in the Pacific slope. The weather is moderately cool with decreasing pressure and cloudy or foggy weather along the coast. Pressure distribution is favorable for unsettled weather, with a strong probability of showers at Fresno and vicinity tonight and Tuesday.

NO INQUESTS ON THREE SUICIDES

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—No inquest will be held over the bodies of the three persons who took their own lives Saturday.

Relatives of Miss Gretchen M. Johnson, a school teacher living at her parents' home at 244 North Belmont avenue, who ended her life by shutting herself in a closet and spilling a bottle of chloroform, have told the coroner that they are satisfied it is a case of suicide.

The coroner is satisfied also that the man who was found with a bullet through his brain at 518 Central avenue and died several hours later in the receiving hospital, killed himself. The body is being held awaiting identification.

As a note signed "B. Clay" stating that he was going to end his life was found in the room where a dead man was found at 264 East Fifth street, the coroner says he will hold no inquest but will sign a certificate saying that the man ended his life by drinking carbolic acid.

NEW ERA FOR BANKS

Is Anticipated By New York
Financiers as Result of the Changes of the Past Week.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The recent tension in banking circles was today considerably relieved and the day passed with no adverse developments of a serious nature. At the same time there was evidence that some of the banks most affected by recent events were still in need of assistance, but the promptness with which the clearing house accorded it did much to delay further alarm.

The general improvement was reflected in the buoyancy of the stock market and the steady advance in prices. The debt balance of the National Bank of North America amounted to $350,000. While there was said to have been some discussion in the clearing house committee and the officers of the latter bank as to the necessity of giving it any support, it was found necessary to do so and W. H. Havermyer, the new president of the institution, declared that the bank of North America had not asked one dollar of aid from the clearing house.

"The situation," Mr. Havermyer said,
"is really far better than we expected. So far, only about $15,000 has been withdrawn. When the bank opened this morning, we had a million dollars on hand to pay all comers, but only a small portion was used."
The fact that the clearing house regards the situation as still serious is shown by the members of the committee that the Mercantile bank debt balance was unexpectedly large. The committee continued in session the greater part of the day discussing a plan of policy with regard to assisting such banks as might need help.
After the committee had adjourned for the day James T. Woodward, president of the Hanover National bank and chairman of the committee, said that the conditions were improving and that the committee felt equal to meeting any emergency that might arise tomorrow.

William Sherer, manager of the clearing house, stated that the situation was under control, that some of the more awkward features had been eliminated and that from this time there would begin a new era in New York banking. Mr. Sherer said also that the clearing house committee would carry out the policy announced yesterday, of assisting the weaker banks to discharge their obligations.
The committee, it was added, would meet every morning to pass upon the collateral offered in settling debt balance.

ment of leaf tobacco and cigarettes said to be valued at $7000, from Durham, N. C., consigned to the British American Tobacco company of Great Britain, which is now being held by the customs authorities. The action was brought following a conference here last week between Collector of Customs Hughes, United States District Judge Lewis and a representative from the Department of Justice at Washington. The business of the latter in Norfolk was declared to be in connection with prosecutions under the Sherman anti-trust law.
The reason for the attachment of the tobacco and cigarettes is not given.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

During the past 35 years no remedy has proven more prompt or more effective in its cures of Coughs, Colds and Croup than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. In many homes it is relied upon as implicitly as the family physician. It contains no opium or other narcotic, and

TAFT IS CHEERED AS FUTURE PRESIDENT

Says He Has Been Assured That United States Has Kept Every Pledge.

MANILA, Oct. 21.—There was a great demonstration here tonight in honor of Secretary Taft, the occasion being a banquet arranged by a committee composed of members of the general assembly. The secretary was cheered for five minutes when introduced with the statement that "there is no man in whom the Philippines owe more than to the future president of the United States," the nationalists being especially demonstrative.

A silver loving cup of native make was presented to the secretary, who,
in expressing his thanks, said he was gratified when he heard President Cavero say the United States had kept its every promise made to the Philippines in letter and in spirit.

He urged the importance of education in order to overcome the tendency to blindly follow one man. It was necessary to give all an equal opportunity, so that the son of the humblest person might aspire to the highest position in the state. He was confident that the assembly would unite with him to secure legislation to better existing conditions. He said it was important to choose the best men
as delegates to the national congress.
He hoped for the adoption of a tariff as low as possible and a law limiting the exports of sugar and tobacco to the United States. This would do good and would prevent the formation of another Cuba, where the absorption of energy in the production of one commodity means the control of the masses by the few and is not in the interest of the government.

Secretary Taft said he was satisfied with the condition of the Philippines and solemnly warned those who may attempt a cleavage of the two people now coming together. In conclusion, the secretary toasted the prosperity and long life of the islands.
At a meeting this morning of the carnival committee, leading business men and progressive citizens, Secretary Taft in a speech expressed his approval of the projected island carnival. This afternoon he had a long talk with Aguinaldo.

WALLINGS RELEASED

Rose Strunsky Is to Be Held
By Russian Authorities
Pending Further Inquiry.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 21.—The Wallings and Miss Strunsky have been released.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 21.—The director of the secret police today informed the American charge d'affaires, Montgomery Schuyler, Jr., that Mr. and Mrs.
William E. Walling, who were arrested last night because of their association with members of the Finnish progressive party, would be released tonight or tomorrow, indicating that it would be desirable for them to leave Russia permanently if they wished to avoid further embarrassment. Rose Strunsky, sister of Mrs. Walling, will be held in custody until the extent of the implication of the Russian revolutionists was ascertained. The authorities profess to be greatly alarmed at the activities of the Russo-Finnish revolutionists and assert that Helsinki is the center from which terrorist operations are directed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Secretary Root called Mr. Schuyler, charge of the American embassy at St. Petersburg, regarding the case of William English Walling, an American, today, who was arrested there yesterday with members of his family, for association with the Finnish progressive party. The secretary's message was a short statement of the appeal upon which the American embassy was expected to act for the relief of the persons arrested so far as seemed proper and was prompted by a telegram dated Indianapolis, from William M. English, an uncle of Mr. Walling.
The telegram contained a brief summary of the facts concerning the arrest as sent out in the press dispatches.

CARMEN CHARGED WITH DOUBLE MURDER

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—With double murder charges against their names, Edgar A. Purcell, motorman, and Charles V. Brown, conductor on the Polk street line, appeared for arrangement before Police Judge Shortall this morning. These men are the crew of the car upon which Charles Moss sustained a bullet wound in the brain, which he died this morning, and John Monger and Bernard Goldstein, also passengers, were shot in the left hand and left thigh respectively.
Purcell and Brown, who were roughly treated by the passengers at the time of the shooting, appeared with their heads swathed in bandages. The arrangement was postponed until Saturday.

A MOVE FOR PEACE ON COLORADO LINE

DENVER, Oct. 21.—Operator H. H.
Skeggs of Grand Junction, Colo., who was discharged from his position as wire chief of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad at that place, has been called to Denver to confer with President Perham of the Order of Railway Telegraphers. This is a move in the direction of peace, as it is believed that another conference with Vice-President Schlarke will take place today or tomorrow at which Skeggs will be present.
It is believed that the officials of the road, rather than incur a serious strike, will make some disposition of Skeggs's case that will be satisfactory to both sides.

PLANS TO RECEIVE WARSHIP FLEET

tion from San Francisco setting forth plans for the battleship fleet upon its arrival here.

SPEAKS AT VICKSBURG

President Roosevelt Is On His Way Home from His Outing
In the Louisiana Canebrakes

VICKSBURG, Oct. 21.—After a fortnight spent in the canebrakes and looking bronzed and vigorous,
President Roosevelt paid a flying visit to Vicksburg this afternoon. The president arrived at Delta just across the river at 1 o'clock. He was met by the steamboat Belle of the Bend, with a reception committee of 100 representative citizens on board.
The president immediately embarked and followed by a dozen boats, yachts and other craft, made his entry into the city.

The bluff overlooking the river were lined with people who gave the chief executive a hearty welcome.
President Roosevelt entered the forward carriage and with Mayor Griffith and Stephen D. Lee, headed the parade which passed through the principal streets to the national cemtery, where an address was made.
The streets were densely packed with people who cheered the visitor at every opportunity.

TYPOTHETAE OBTAIN AN EMPTY VICTORY

Pressmen's Union Is Enjoined from Striking, But Individuals May Quit Work.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 21.—The temporary injunction against the inciting of a strike by the International Pressmen's union for an eight-hour day was made permanent today by United States Judge Thompson, who held that such action on the part of the union officers would be breaking a valid contract.
The injunction was sought by the United Typothetae of America, and certain publishing concerns in New York, Chicago, St. Louis and Massachusetts to prevent the defendants, officers and members of the Pressmen's union in carrying on a strike, which was in effect the breaking of a contract entered into last May, and running until June 1, 1912.

According to the contract, the pres-men were to have a nine-hour day until January 1, 1909, when the eight-hour day was to go into effect, but the union had demanded the immediate acceptance of the eight-hour day.
When the case was argued ten days ago, the defendants raised the question of jurisdiction and the complainants moved to amend the petition in certain respects to eliminate parties not indispensable to the suit, which motion was sustained today, the court holding that it had jurisdiction in the case.

That the demand by the international officers for an eight-hour day prior to the date agreed on was violation of their contract, was the opinion of the court, but he said the men as individuals could not be enjoined from striking.

One of the points sought by the petition was to enjoin the paying of strike benefits. The attorneys for the union pleaded for the beneficiaries of the strike fund, but the court sustains the petition and the injunction as issued forbids the payment of strike benefits or any action by the officers of the union that would incite a strike in contravention of the contract.

HEINZE COMPANY IS FORCED INTO BANKRUPTCY

Creditors Allege That Illegal Preferences
Have Been Made in Treatment Of Creditors.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the United States District Court today against the firm of Otto Heinze & Co., brokers, whose suspension from the stock exchange was announced last week after they had refused to accept a block of United Copper stock, purchased for them by the firm of Gross & Kleberg.

The petitioning creditors are William H. Robison, as assignee of the firm of Gross & Kleberg, with a claim of $255,372; Leo Wise, who has an assigned claim of from Edward V. Broker, in the sum of $6,000 and Frank
A. Brady, who has an assigned claim from Horsfield & Stern for $2,901.
They allege that Otto Heinze & Co. made preferential payments to the Merchants National Bank of $2,000,000 of assigned securities and also other preferential payments which aggregated about $100,000. It is also alleged that valuable securities were assigned to F. Augustus Heinze and Arthur P.
Heinze to secure antecedent indebtedness and because of an anticipated suspension of the firm by the stock exchange. Arguments on appointment of a receiver were postponed until Wednesday.

The clearing house committee at a meeting held today at the Mercantile National Bank advised the acceptance of the resignations of eight directors of the bank. This was done and five new directors selected. The other vacancies will be filled later.

WOMAN HOMESICK FOR FORTY CATS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—Mrs.
Amos Kearney of Stockton, visiting her son-in-law here, is enduring an agonizing separation from her pet cats. At home Mrs. Kearney enjoys the society of forty felines, but she tacitly feared her son-in-law might consider it an intrusion if she brought the whole family, so she determined to go along with only four. From all accounts, her family here is reasonably content with the fact that she did not bring the other thirty-six.
Mrs. Kearney's grief is intense. Every evening she gathers her four cats about her and they sit on the porch, and think about their mates as far away. Mrs. Kearney's family often finds her there bathed in tears, the four cats in her arms. Weeping for this separation apparently and collectively has become so laborious that Mrs. Kearney has decided to cut short her visit and return home to her loved ones.

SCIONS OF INFAMY LIVING ON ROBBERY

Is Way Labouchere Describes Members of the English House of Lords.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—A cable to the American from London says: "A disolute nobility, descended from a tainted ancestry," is the indictment brought against the bulk of the English peerage by Henry Labouchere, editor of Truth, who declares that the majority of the holders of titles in England today are weakling descendants of infamous forerunners. He pil-lories the greatest names and titles in England and declares the present holders of them descended from illicit unions and flagrant liaisons. He declares that some of the fairest estates in England are vested in the descendants of illegitimate offspring of kings and nobles. He points out that the governing body in the House of Lords is composed of men descended from rabble barons and weak-minded favorites. In his scathing review of the nobility Labouchere says:

"The first Duke of Grafton, Richmond, St. Albans and Buccleuch were the illegitimate sons of Charles II.
They were raised to the peerage—the Duke of Grafton at nine years of age, the Duke of St. Albans at six, and the Duke of Buccleuch at fourteen—not for any private merits of their own, and not for their nobility, but for the infamy of their birth."

"It is no secret that the first Duke of Marlborough owed his career in the first instance to the seduction of his sister, Arabella Churchill by James II.
The first Earl of Orkney was raised to the peerage for his participation in the murder of James II. The first Marquis of Conyngham obtained his promotion to a marquessate in the Irish peerage and to the peerage of the United Kingdom as the price of his wife's elopement with the mistress of George IV."

He tells of the open purchase of peerages by corruption, giving numerous historical instances. In summing up, Labouchere declared that outside of personal honor, "we owe the English peerage to three sources: The seduction of church, the open and flagrant sale of honors by the older Stu-arts and the borough-mongering of our own times. These are the main sources of the existing peerage of England, and in my opinion disgraceful
ones."

"In the category of the church nobility must be placed the Cecils, as represented by the Salisbury and Rector families; the Cavendishes, as represented by the Duke of Devonshire; the Russells, as represented by the Duke of Bedford, and a long list of our leading nobility. It is indeed a fine stroke of irony that some of the most vehement pronouncements in defense of the 'rights of property' have emanated from residences where are stabled abbots and priors and carry in their names the record that the titles of their ownership rest on nothing better than greed."

ILLINOIS CENTRAL MEETING POSTPONED

Apparently Fish Has Got the Better of Harriman in Financial Game.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Straggling Fish early today secured a postponement of the Illinois Central stockholders' meeting until December 18th.
The Harriman people agreed to the adjournment, although they had previously been anxious to push matters as rapidly as possible.

The decision to adjourn the meeting was the result of a conference held at 3 o'clock this morning between William Nelson Cromwell for Fish, the overturners' counsel, and John H. Farrington for Harriman, who sought out the Fish people and declared that he wished to come to some sort of an agreement. He was informed by Judge Farrington that the agreement—that could be reached was to accept the terms of Fish, which would be the adjournment until December 18, and a decision of court, if the Harriman people so decided, to determine the right to vote the 285, 738 shares of stock against which a temporary injunction was issued by Judge Ball one week ago. After an extended conference Mr. Cromwell assented.

STATE RIGHTS FIGHT GOES TO SUPREME COURT

Attorney General of Minnesota Puts Himself in Contempt of Federal Tribunal to Test Law.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 21.—Attorney General Young of Minnesota was adjudged in contempt of court by Judge Loch-ren in the United States district court today and fined $500, which he refused to pay. An appeal to the United States Supreme court will be taken in the form of an application for a writ of habeas corpus, as Mr. Young has been remanded to the custody of the United States marshal and the question of whether the United States court has the right to enjoin a state from enforcing its laws will thus be finally disposed of. The question involved is whether an officer or servant of a sovereign state can be suderal William Booth, the following telegram:

ialness in Chicago, I desire apart from all official differences, to express my and policy. As such, amalgamation could not be taken into consideration

Events In Society

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Harvey, Jr., was the scene of a very pretty wedding at noon yesterday when Miss Lola Seymour, an attractive Oakland girl, became the bride of Homer B. Russell, a well-known young vineyardist. Nearly a year ago the bride came to Fresno for the benefit of her health and has been making her home with Miss Russell and her brother at their vineyard home. The friendship which began with her visit deepened into something stronger between the young people, culminating in yesterday's interesting wedding. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Emma E. Seymour of Oakland, who came down for the wedding. She possesses many charming qualities which have endeared her to all who have come to know her during her stay in Fresno and will make her welcome to Fresno as her future home a very hearty one.

Homer Russell came to Fresno from St. Paul about five years ago with his sister, and together they have been most successful on their vineyard. He is a capable young business man full of enthusiasm and with a keen sense of humor that makes him warm friends wherever he goes.

Although a very quiet wedding of simple arrangements, it was one of the most artistic and happy events of the fall. The pretty rooms were filled with the rarest and loveliest blossoms of the season, autumn leaves combined with chrysanthemums in all of their rich, gorgeous coloring predominating. The shades were drawn and a soft, beautiful effect was obtained with candles and softly shaded lights. The living room in which the ceremony took place was done in shades of red. A bower of greenery was arranged in one corner and beneath it the bride and groom took their places while Rev. Hanson of St. James church read the solemn Episcopal service most impressively. Clusters of deep red chrysanthemums and red shades abounding, the lights produced a very lovely effect.

Contrasting with the color scheme of the room was the snowy whiteness of the bride's gown. The bride was exceedingly picturesque in her wedding gown of just cloth sent her from the Philippines and in her arms was a cluster of white chrysanthemums. She was attended by Miss Carrie Russell, the groom's sister. Miss Russell, who is a particularly handsome girl, was a noticeable figure in her charming gown of soft white net over a slip of white tulle. She carried an armful of white chrysanthemums.

The groom was unattended. To the soft strains of the Lohengrin bridal chorus, played with Miss Springle's characteristic inspiring touch, the wedding party took their places, while the score of relatives and friends gathered in a circle about them.

Following congratulations a dainty buffet luncheon was served, after which the bride disappeared to change her wedding gown for an equally becoming traveling gown of brown with hat to match.

The dining room was decorated in pink with candle shades to match, garlands of dainty pink contrasting with the rosy color.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell have gone to Southern California on their honeymoon and upon their return a fortnight hence will reside on the groom's vineyard. Miss Florence Owen of St. Paul, an intimate friend of the Russell family, who is visiting Mrs. Harvey, came to attend the wedding. The groom's parents were expected, but were at the last moment unexpectedly detained.

The query club met yesterday with Mrs. E. Z. Austin to commence the study of history and Cleopatra, which Mrs. Miller. In beginning the study of this most marvelous work of the great bard Mrs. Miller gave some delightfully interesting insights upon the coming lessons which give promise of being some of the most profitable that the club has undertaken. Papers were assigned and the first act of the play read and discussed with much profit.

Mrs. H. O. Baker will be the club's hostess next week, when Mrs. Austin leads in the comparative study of Andrea del Sarto.

The wedding of Miss Lulu Doyle, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Doyle, and Arthur Emery of Spokane, which was to have been solemnized this evening at the bride's home on I street, has been postponed for a day or two on account of the illness of Miss Doyle. Her fiancé arrived from Spokane on Saturday night.

It is not thought that it will be necessary to postpone the marriage for more than a day or two, as Miss Doyle's indisposition is slight, and more than likely the wedding will take place tomorrow evening instead of this. Since it was to be only a very quiet affair, confined to the family circle and a few relatives, the arrangements will not be difficult to readjust to a little later date.

Miss Ruby Olney is expecting to have as her guest Miss Margaret Sinclair of Sacramento, who is to be one of the brides at the Meux-Barber nuptials on October 28th.

A jolly crowd of friends united last night in giving Ed Thompson a very lively birthday party at 921 O street, where he and his wife reside. Mr. Thompson is employed in the office of the Sperry Flour company and both he and Mrs. Thompson have made many friends during their year's residence in Fresno. It was an exceedingly merry gathering enjoyed by about a score of friends. There was music and other interesting diversions for entertainment and in conclusion some delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The birthday cake with (it is not fair to say how many) candles was, of course, a conspicuous feature of the feast. Those who participated in the good time were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Tinnin, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. E. Rodfeld, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McClure, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Haney, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Cornick, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Galbraith, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Misses Mamie Russell, May Fitzgerald, Helen Sprague, Marion Powell, John Coffman and the host and hostess.

SUN AND SNOW

Sometimes Help the Hair to Go
In any, changeable climate the hair is apt to become brittle and to break off stubby here and there. This makes a hair dresser almost a necessity, especially for ladies. In using a hair-dressing why not get the best, one that combines with it the efficiency in killing the dandruff germ, the germ that eats the hair off at the roots, causing what is called falling hair and in time baldness. Nowbro's "Herpicide" is that kind of a hair dressing. You have no idea how delightful your scalp will feel and how stylish your hair will appear after an application or two of Herpicide. It is certainly a wonderful innovation as a scalp antiseptic and hair dressing. Sold by leading druggists. Bond 10c in stamps for sample of The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50c. and $1. Investing An Estate
Amy Benson, as administratrix of the estate of John A. Benson, who died on the 12th of September, 1906, has asked for permission to sell Kingsburg property of the estate to invest the money in property to be solely owned by it. Emil Chastrom has joined the widow and others in the petition for specific performance of the contract by which the late John A. Benson agreed to sell to him for $1350 particular lots in Wriston addition to Kingsburg.

Admitted to Probate
The will of A. Youngberg, who died on the 25th of last month at Selma has been admitted to probate. The estate does not exceed $10,000 in value and Inga Ellison is named as executrix. James Watson, A. J. Allen and N. W. Steward have been appointed appraisers. The executrix was made the devisee, the testator having already made provision for his children, as he stated in his will.

CAN TRUST WANTS C.F.C.A. CONTRACT

$1,000,000 Per Annum Job Is In Doubt.

Supply Manager Bush Coming to Fresno—All Canned Goods Sold.

It is understood that efforts are being made by the Moore-Reid interests of Newport, who control the American Can company, looking to a renewal of the contract by which the can company will continue to supply the California Fruit Canners' association with fruit and vegetable cans. This contract, which expires December 31st, next, was made in 1905 by F. A. Assman, who was then president of the American Can company. Manager Heron of the local cannery says that he is not aware that any new contract has been made, though he admits that negotiations are being made.

The contract was made for a period of five years and calls for 50,000,000 cans per year, according to the size of the crops, and involves over $1,000,000 a year. Under the contract now in force, the California Fruit Canners' association leases its plant to the American company, which concern operates it. Doubt is expressed in some quarters whether the Moore-Reid interests will succeed in their efforts toward a renewal of the contract, in which event the American Can company would lose one of its most important consumers. It is rumored that the cannery may make their own cans after the expiration of the contract. It is also rumored, however, that the cannery have asked other large can concerns to submit bids for the work.

H. W. Phelps of the "can trust" is now in San Francisco and it is thought that his visit there may have some connection with this matter. It

BETTER THAN MEDICINE

Breathe Hyomel's Tonic Healing and Be Cured of Catarrh.

Nature has a remedy for catarrh, a treatment that is far better than doing the stomach with medicine.

It is the healing oils and balsams of Hyomel which medicate the air you breathe, reaching the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs, killing all catarrhal germs, and restoring health to the mucous membrane. In using Hyomel you are treating your catarrhal troubles with the only natural remedy, for it gives a curative air bath to the air passages that has as powerful healing and antiseptic effect as that found in the mountains where the pine forests give off their fragrant and healing balsams.

Breathe the invigorating and healing Hyomel, and see how quickly you will get relief from your catarrhal troubles. The San Joaquin Drug Store has seen so many cures, even of the worst cases of catarrh, with offensive breath, raising of mucus, frequent sneezing, droppings in the throat and spasmodic coughing that they feel warranted in selling Hyomel under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it. They take all the risk.

Business Insurance

is a subject of the keenest interest to everybody in the business world, from the manager to the office-boy. Business Insurance insures against error, against delays, against waste of time, against confusion. It guarantees economy and efficiency, and removes the drudgery from routine matters and detail work. It simplifies business, makes accounting a pleasure, and increases the value of each employee's services, inasmuch as it increases his productive ability. By Business Insurance we mean

SYSTEM

Not "red tape"—that is lack of system. Modern business, as far as the office is concerned, has developed itself into the handling of many papers of various sizes, shapes and imports. If these papers—be they Checks, Vouchers, Invoices, or anything else—are intelligently handled, entered, checked and properly filed, then the most usual source of delays and errors is guarded against. System prepares the way so that these various operations are so simplified that it is easier to do the right thing than the wrong. This enables the clerk with the ordinary mind and temperament to do as accurate work as any other.

This shows in an exaggerated way the troubles occasioned by the "lack-o-system" methods so commonly relied upon by the victims of the "pigeon-hole habit." How much better to keep papers properly arranged upon a conservative plan as shown below.

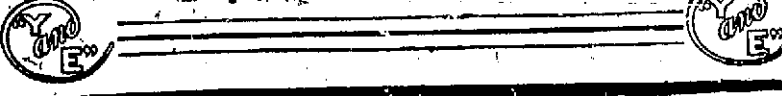

The Yawman & Erbe Manufacturing Company of Rochester, N. Y., are acknowledged leaders in the world of

Business Insurance

Their systems are the achievements of experts after many years of study and experiment with "results" as their goal. For comprehensiveness, efficiency and adaptability they are unequalled. No line of business can afford to do without these systems.

MRS. COBB LEADS ALL IN REPUBLICAN RACE

But Other Contestants Are Working Hard to Overtake the Plucky Pace Maker

Myrtle May Huddleston (Modesto)

Mrs. George Cobb evidently wants the Republican's biggest prize. She keeps the head of the list quite easily. It would seem, and gives Mrs. Max Hoon a lively running to keep abreast. A few days ago Mrs. Hoon was ahead and kept there for some little time. Now it is Mrs. Cobb. Next week it may be some one not even in the contest yet. Stranger things than that have happened in other contests on this paper. Mrs. Cobb jumped ahead 11,000 votes yesterday, making her about 19,000 ahead of Mrs. Hoon. But 19,000 votes are not many to get for an energetic worker like Mrs. Hoon, who has friends by the dozen ready and anxious to throw votes her way.

There isn't a bit of use being discouraged just because the head candidate has 135,000 votes to the good. There may be some wise one who has that many up his sleeve or as good as put them there and tomorrow the contest with 135,000 may have to be made to get back to first place. This is an open, fair competition and everyone has an equal chance. Don't let any candidate with a big vote bluff you out of the running by a talk of the votes he has "salted down." Of course, when a race gets as exciting as this one has become there is always some talk of this kind, but it's a pretty good rule to follow to believe only half of what you hear and then split that half in two and divide by four. Let the fellow that goes to work and wins votes that's going to win. Don't pay any attention to the one that's harping on the votes he can run in on the finish. Chances are while he is talking about it to you, some bright contestant is getting some of the people he counted on asking to vote for him. It's the hustle and get there that does the business. You can just bank on that.

Battleground and Shuttlecock.
Are there five candidates in the Republican contest? Well, if you don't believe it just study the list below for a few minutes. Can't you see the merry game of battleground and shuttlecock in district 6 for instance? There is Lindsay in the lead, with Miss Della Peden as its proud representative and the honor the Lindsay people feel in having her as their star candidate is shown by the way they cheer her at the top of the list. She has not been in but a few days and she jumped into first place right from the start. What's the matter with Porterville, Tulare and Visalia, that they are letting Lindsay take first place away from them and keep it? You just watch these places "spunk up" when they find Lindsay running away from them. It is not a case of individual competition in this district. It is one town against another. That makes voting all the livelier. No thrifty, enterprising town wants to see a sister town lead in anything, especially when it is a competition for something as good as the prizes offered to the Republican's winning contestants. That's a good and proper spirit. It is all so good natured, too. That's the best part about it. There are so many prizes—thirty-three, just think of it—that you need not be disappointed at not getting the first, or even the second or third, although these big ones are the choice prizes. There are enough trips to satisfy everyone.

Think of the Trips
Six Hawaiian trips! You sort of have to say it over a few times to make yourself believe that it is really possible there can be six of these grand trips to be given away in addition to the splendid big prizes, a ranch, and two automobiles, besides 24 other trips. But it's a fact, nevertheless, that each district in the contest is to have one of these beautiful Hawaiian trips—a trip that will give you something to think about for the rest of your life, a trip that will make you the envy of your friends. It's a rare trip to take. Only those blessed in this world's goods can even contemplate such a voyage. You have it brought and laid at your door. It is almost too easy to obtain. That's a bad thing to think, though, for it may be the means of your losing it. Somebody wants it, and wants it bad. Look out that you aren't caught napping, and find your beautiful Hawaiian dream fading into thin air.

Lively District Scrimmage.
In district No. 5 Lindsay and Armstrong are still back and forth. Mary Fisher of Hanford takes everything away from them. Just wait until those new candidates who want to enter are fairly started and you will see some lively hustling on Hanford's part to keep their star competitor first in place.

Then there is Los Banos in district 4, a much smaller place than Modesto or Merced, taking first place with Miss Leah Thomas. Its rustling candidate, who takes first place and the also indirect line for one of the three capital prizes.

There is a good lively fight on in the Modesto district between Miss Lucy Price and Miss Christina Larow, both bright, active girls out for a big prize. Miss Price is about 4,000 ahead today but that's not saying that she will be tomorrow. It is nip and tuck between those two, with Irene Glas a pushing third.

SOME LOCAL PACKERS ARE SHORT OF HELP

All Sorts of Inducements Held Out to Secure Necessary Labor in Plants.

Though it has been thought that the labor situation was satisfactory to most all of the operators here, it seems that at places the scarcity of help is felt throughout the season so far, is still unalleviated. While the houses in the south and west sections of the town, on the Southern Pacific tracks, have had the help needed of a kind, some of the places far out on the Santa Fe, or in other towns in the valley, have not had enough help to handle the machinery, and have resorted to all kinds of ruses to persuade people to come to work for them. Chuggenhime & Co., on the Santa Fe, have not had the help they needed at any time during the year, and have advertised time and again, and have even offered to bring down girls from Madera and pay their own boat ways after a week of work. But they are still short. Now they are offering 10 cents a box for packing prunes, which is very much in advance of the wages generally paid, and they have not succeeded in filling their demand for labor.

Another firm which has been short of help in the season is the Frank Lyman Company, which has a plant on the Polinsky branch of the Southern Pacific railroad. This firm has also resorted even to personal soliciting to get help, and has had only moderate success.

The North Ontario Packing Company of Hanford has secured 12 girls from Kingsburg to pack raisin layers there.

Mrs. J. J. White has returned from a visit of three weeks to Puget Sound and points in Washington.

RAIN EXPECTED MAY AID RAISIN MARKET

Anything to Discourage Drying of Second Crop Muscatel Now of Advantage.

Predictions of rain were made last night for today. It has now come to the place where benefit to the raisin business as a whole is to be expected from every rain, as this will have an increased tendency to send the second crop of muscatel to the wineries, rather than send it into the raisin market. The idea of drying the large part of the second crop has been largely dropped in this section by many of those who have made a study of the raisin situation, for the reason that it will have a decided tendency to bear the market. The important question about a rain now is whether it was sufficient to hinder or even prevent the drying of the second crop. Fears of damage have now gone except for the man who is wishing to get his second crop onto the raisin market, to compete with the first crop of the man who has sold to the ordinary, accepted way; first crop to the raisin man, and second to the wineries.

If the precipitation is sufficient, and extends to the Stockton and Lodi country, it may also have the effect of live-ening up the shipments of emperors, by spoiling tokays for late delivery.

HAIR GAVE THIEF AWAY

Fled from Barber With Locks Identified By Unfinished Job—Bartender Arrested for Forging $5 Check.

George Bryant, an employee of the Adams winery near this city, was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Hiram Winking for petty larceny, on a clue furnished by the fact that the man was in the barber's chair when he found that he was about to be arrested, and fled with his hair still half cut. It was in the same condition when he was found, and it is probable that he would not have been apprehended at all had he taken the precaution to have the job finished by another barber.

Bryant is charged with the theft of last Sunday of a bundle of laundry belonging to Robert Baumgart, from the Fair lodging house, where Baumgart resides. The goods have not been recovered, and Bryant says that he has sold them. It is thought probable, however, that he merely concealed the clothing. The landlady saw the man take the goods, and Baumgart went out to hunt for him. He found Bryant in the Gilt Edge barber shop having his hair trimmed. The cutting around his neck was about half finished. Baumgart accused Bryant of the theft, and said that he was going out to get the police. In launching this premature announcement, he made a mistake. Bryant was taking no chances. He jumped up, threw off the sheets and other paraphernalia with which he was encumbered in the barber's chair, and went out on the run.

Baumgart appeared before Judge Briggs and swore a complaint charging Bryant with petty larceny. It was thought that the man was at the Adams winery, and Deputy Sheriff Winking went out to serve the warrant and make the arrest. He found his man in a wine vat, and identified him by his unique tussle as he was crawling out. Winking says that as Bryant is rather a prepossessing young man, he would have passed him by in his search for the criminal had it not been for the hair.

Forgery Charge.
Harry Black, a bartender and cook, formerly an employee of the Tivoli Air Ship, was arrested in Stockton for forgery on a description sent from here, and brought to this city yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Jim McManey. The arrest was made Saturday night by the chief of the Stockton police, but it was not definitely known he was the man wanted. He was taken up yesterday and brought him back, and he is the man looked for.

Harry Eastwood appeared before Judge Graham Saturday and swore to a complaint charging the man with forging a check, and passing it as genuine. The check was for $5 and was drawn on the Fresno National bank. James Ziercher, proprietor of the Tivoli Air Ship, is said to have cashed the check, and this is a part of the allegation, but Ziercher himself denies all knowledge of the matter.

Held For Examination.
James Doston had his preliminary examination on a charge of burglary before Justice of the Peace Walton yesterday, and was held to answer to the superior court under $1000 bond. In default of his bond he was remanded to jail.

With an excellent program and cheap rates this should be the fullest meeting we have ever had.

AUTO RACE ON STAGE IS FEATURE OF MOTORING PLAY BILLED FOR TONIGHT

BARNEY OLDFIELD'S IDEA OF RACING MACHINES BEING USED TO HEIGHTEN REALISTIC EFFECT IS CARRIED OUT IN PRODUCTION OF "THE VANDERBILT CUP," WHICH IS A THEATRICAL VERSION OF ANNUAL RACE

Scene from "The Vanderbilt Cup."

A run of eight months at the Broadway theater, New York, and of three months at the Colonial in Chicago is the record of the new musical comedy, "The Vanderbilt Cup," which comes to the Barton tonight with the same lavishness of detail that distinguished its metropolitan run.

The big cast of sixty is said to contain nearly all of the original principals, augmented by a crowd of famous Broadway beauties arrayed in the very latest styles of motor apparel. The musical numbers promise to be unusually catchy and include "My Little Chauffeur," "My Houseboat Beau," "The Light That Lies In Girl's Eyes," and "Somewhere in the World." The story, according to reports, is up to date in the minute portrayal of life among the smart automobile set and hinges upon the great Vanderbilt cup race, which is run at Mineola, Long Island, every year by motorists from all over the world. The dialogue is said to be delightfully clever, and much satire is indicated in the exposure of those auto-enthusiasts who run about the continent in their costly touring cars. Barney Oldfield's great idea, the real motor race on the stage, is one of the features of the piece. Two 30-horse power racing machines, running at high speed, crash on the stage, amid all the roar, dust and excitement of a real race, and it is said the audience fairly gets out of the chairs to see the finish.

The engagement of "The Vanderbilt Cup" is for one night only. "Isle of Spice." Those who desire a couple of hours' rest and relaxation from the cares of a busy world; those who enjoy pretty pictures with all the picturesque local color of the delightful Oriental locality of the Japan Sea; those who love all those to whom beautiful femininity with sweet voices, handsomely costumed, appeals, are promised a rare treat in that quaint island mixture, "Isle of Spice," which B. C. Willis's musical comedy company will present at the Barton tomorrow night. There is a charm about the piece that never fails to win the appreciation of the most critical, and it is said to be a rare individual who, having seen this attraction once, can resist the desire to enjoy a second performance. The music is of that refreshing quality of which one never grows tired, the stage business is new, the lyrics which constitute the chorus are young, pretty and said to be the best singers and dancers on the American stage at the present time. The company, which is one of the largest in the musical comedy

CALIFORNIAN COMMANDS ROOSEVELT'S BIG YACHT
Lieutenant Commander Vogelsang is Well Known in San Joaquin Valley.

Lieutenant Commander C. Theodore Vogelsang of the United States navy, who has just been assigned to command the converted cruiser Mayflower, which is the vessel President Roosevelt uses as his private yacht, is a brother of Ed. Vogelsang, formerly deputy sheriff of Fresno county and at present a prosperous wheat raiser on the west side.

Lieutenant Commander Vogelsang has been appointed as master of the Mayflower of the excellent work he did as navigating officer of the battleship Louisiana during the recent trip of the President to the Panama canal.

The President spent much of his time at sea on the bridge of the battleship beside Commander Vogelsang, and the chief executive praised the officer at the end of the voyage for his masterly handling of the big ship.

Commander Vogelsang is a native of California and was appointed to the naval academy in 1886 from Stockton and reached the rank of lieutenant commander in July, 1905. He was a lieutenant on board the gunboat Bancroft during the Spanish-American war, and while on the Asiatic station as divisional officer in the battleship Wisconsin, he broke all gunnery records with the thirteen-inch guns, his gun crew making thirty-two hits out of a possible thirty-six with half-ton projectiles, while the vessel was steaming at battle speed. He has served in the navy in nearly every quarter of the globe.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—The pressure is falling slowly over the Pacific slope and the depression extending northward through the great valley from Mexico is deepening. This has caused cloudy and threatening weather over the southern half of the Pacific slope and generally cloudy weather over the northern. A thunderstorm is reported from Southern Utah. Conditions are favorable for showers in California Tuesday, with light southwest wind. Forecast:

field, is headed by that clever comedian, John Mytic and he is ably assisted by Charles Purcell, Harry B. Watson, Harry Williams, Sam Ross, Edwin Lang, Robert Wilson, Marie Watson, Loretta Broadwell and others who are well known in the musical comedy line.

Seats are on sale all day. Sousa's Soloists. As a rule Sousa has changed special soloists with each concert tour of the country, but the rule has not been enforced in every case. The term "special" applies to soloists outside of the band proper—the vocalist and violinist. An exception is again made. In the present tour, Miss Jeannette Powers, violinist, has been heard with Sousa and his band upon two former tours. Her success was such that it earned a third engagement.

Miss Lucy Allen, vocal soloist, upon the present tour, is an American who finished her studies in Germany and Italy, and won her first success in those countries. A Florence critic declared "her voice is powerful and of delightful quality and extensive range."

Herbert L. Clarke, cornet virtuoso of Sousa's band, requires hardly more than formal announcement, his masterly playing—being altogether known throughout the country. He will be heard at the Sousa concert next Thursday night at the Barton.

The seat sale opened yesterday morning.

At the Barton next Friday night, October 25th, Miss Olga Nethersole will be seen in Henry Hamilton's adaptation of Prosper Merimee's intense story, "Carmen."

The version was made specially for Miss Nethersole. The great English artist has never presented to the public anything better than "Carmen" and she is credited with coming as near being the ideal gypsy girl as any woman ever—will. Last June Miss Nethersole played a two weeks' engagement in Paris at the Theatre Sarah Bernhardt, where she was supported by Frank Mills and the same company who will support her here. During a sojourn of several weeks in Spain the past summer, she gained many valuable points which she has incorporated into her performance. Her conception is artistic and all the time feminine and womanly.

The sale of seats and boxes opened yesterday morning.

The seat sale opens tomorrow morning for "Sis in New York," the offering at the Barton next Saturday night, October 26th. The prices will be 25, 50 and 75 cents.

Dr. M. S. McMurtry, who was reported in the Clovis correspondence Sunday morning, as going to Panama as ship physician on the S. S. San Jose, writes to state that he is merely going on a vacation and will return in about six weeks.

EASTERN QUOTATIONS

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—The wheat market opened strong and excited with prices 1-8 to 2-3 above the close Saturday. The strength was caused almost entirely by the continued dry weather in Australia. At the end of the first half hour a leading bull commenced to sell and continued to do so throughout the day. This selling started prices downward and the decline was not checked until prices had dropped more than three cents from the high point of the day. A heavy movement of supply and a slackening in the demand for cash wheat were important factors in causing the decline. The market rallied about one cent from the low point on covering by shorts and closed fairly steady. December opened at 1-5 to 1-5-8 higher and closed at 1-5-8 to 1-5-8-8. May ranged between 1-5-8-4 and 1-11-1-2 and closed at 1-5-8-4.

The corn market was strong at the opening in sympathy with wheat. The market weakened later on selling by longs and cash closed weak at almost the low point of the day. A weak market for cash corn and liberal primary receipts were the chief bearish influences. December opened 3-4 to 1-3-8 higher at 61-1-2 61-1-2, sold off to 59-1-4 and closed at 59-3-8.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The market for evaporated apples is quiet, but steady, with fancy quoted at 10-10-10; choice, 10-10-10; common, 10-10-10; to fair, 8-9-10; prices with quotations changed on the spot with quotations ranging from 4-10-10 for Oregon and from 4-10-10 for California, with choice quoted at 31c; extra choice, 22c; fancy, 22-24c; peaches are steady, with choice at 12-12-12; extra choice at 12-12-12; fancy at 12-12-12; extra fancy, 14-14c.

Balsams are in somewhat better supply on the spot, but prices continue firm, with loose muscatels quoted at 8-10-10; seeded raisins at 7-10-10-10; and London layers at 11-11-11-11.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Wheat steady, $1.76-1/2. Barley easy; December, $1.68-1/2; May, $1.74-1/2.

Always Something Doing In the Line of Mirth

"HIS HEART WAS IN HIS MOUTH."

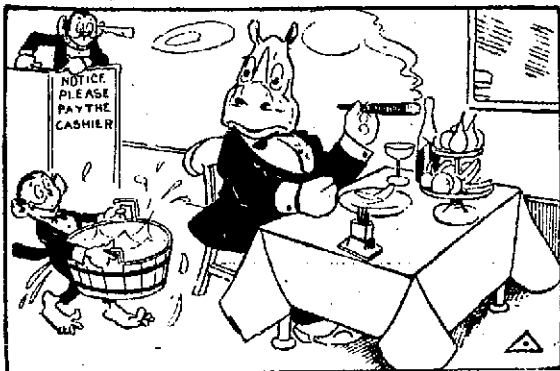

CLEVER BABY.
"Hello, baby, what are you crying for?"
"I-to see if a-some n-ice l-baby won't g-ive me a penny to sto-op."

A HAPPY MEDIUM.
Grace—Was their marriage a success?
Glady—Oh, yes. Through it they both met others whom they really loved.

NOT A SUPERSTITION.
"Do you consider Friday an unlucky day?"
"Sure; I know it is. The stores advertise bargains on that day, and my wife always comes home broke."

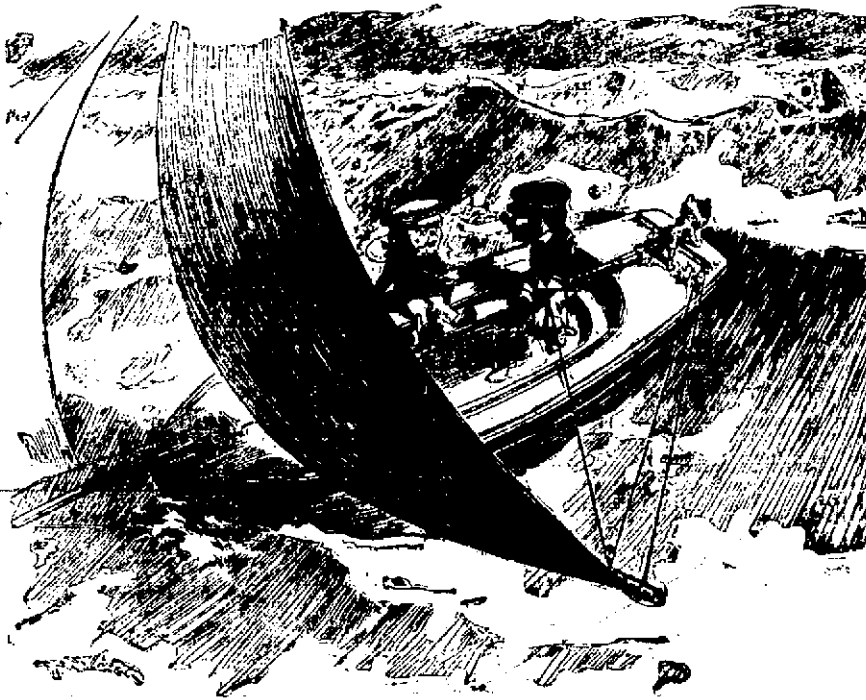

ALONE CONSTRUCTIVELY.
"What becomes of the hero of 'Alone in a Big City'?"
"He gets squeezed to death in a street car jam."

SUITED FOR THE OCCASION.

The Waiter: "Excuse this washub, sir; but we hain't got only the ordinary sized finger bowls!"

NOT REASSURING.

Briggs (who is the guest of Griggs): "I didn't know you had a boat."
Griggs: "Oh, this isn't mine. It's Fiddleback's."
Briggs (nervously looking at a black cloud to windward): "Can you sail her all right?"
Griggs: "No, but don't tell him so. I thought it would be a good chance to learn."

AN EXPERT.
"He raised the building six inches and business continued without interruption meanwhile."
"Evidently he is no ordinary shop lifter."

OF COURSE.
First Girl (slapping her skirts)—Oh, dear, what do you do when you fall down?
Second Girl—Get up again.

LOSING ITS CHARM.
"A college professor says it is not wrong to flirt."
"Too bad! Now the girls won't care anything about it."

FORGOT HE WAS MARRIED.
"He is the most absentminded man on record."
"What has he done now?"
"Going through a tunnel he kissed his wife."

TOOK NO CHANCES.
"Did you ask us to the health of her husband?"
"No; I hadn't seen her for a year, and how was I to know if she still had him?"

COULD SEE THROUGH HIM.
"She is a great mind reader."
"Yes."
"When a tramp knocks at her door she always knows that he wants pie."

"MAKING THINGS HUM."

COULDN'T FINISH IT.
"Gladie, what on earth are you crying about now?"
"Cause I can't find anything that I can smash this engine with."

TOO TRUE.
Is taffy just for ladies?
Sweets to the sweet, they say.
But you can feed the horrid men enough to load a dray.

BEYOND HIM.
"Freddie said he heard such a good joke the other day."
"It can't be. Freddie would never have recognized it."

WHERE THEY FAIL.
Nine skillful tailors make a man—
That's what the old folks say—
But off these tailors luck a plan
To make the one man pay.

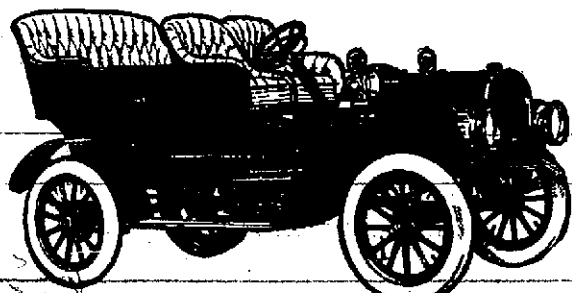

A HINT.

After warning him to flee from Fresno, as the police were on the lookout for him, Louis De Craene, father of Charles De Craene, the man who ran away from Missouri with the wife of Dr. J. C. Hornback, and was found in Selma still in her company, swore out a complaint for his son before Judge Smith yesterday, charging him with adultery. At the same time, the mother of the younger De Craene was almost prostrated by the affair, and was hysterical when she visited her son at the jail soon after his arrival here from Selma in custody.

Louis De Craene confessed to the police that he knew they were on the lookout for the couple on a telegraphed description from Missouri, and that he saw his son getting off the train here some weeks ago, with the intention of visiting his parents. Immediately, he told the young man to get back on the train, as he was being looked for here. The police were soon aware that the couple had proceeded south, but how far they did not know.

The younger De Craene was taken before Judge Smith and arraigned on the charge of adultery, and his bail was fixed at $2000, in default of which he was returned to jail. His preliminary hearing has not been set.

Mrs. Hornback, who is a young and not unattractive woman, appeared at the justice's court yesterday at the arraignment. She is still true to her "affinity," and much more enthusiastic about him than he is about his own husband. She sat and talked with De Craene as though he had been her husband, and appeared to be unashamed of her devotion to him.

No action has been taken against the recalcitrant wife, as the husband seems more anxious to get his son, whom the couple had with them in their flight, than to punish the woman who was so false to him.

The destination of the eloping pair was guessed when they left Missouri, as it was known De Craene's parents lived in this city. Telegrams were sent to the police, and a sharp lookout was kept. Hornback himself came here, and had a conference with the chief of police on last Saturday. The chief and Detectives Drenth and Kennedy were occupied for a whole day in locating the man and woman. They finally found them employed in a packing house at Selma, the former society woman and wife of a prominent physician and corner of his county roughening her soft hands with manual labor, by which to help earn her bread.

BOY CONFESSES TO SERIES OF CRIMES

Tells of Burglaries and Robberies He and Older Partner Committed Here Lately.

William Harvey, the 17-year-old boy who was arrested Sunday morning by Officers Maachen and Johnson, in company with an older man named J. S. Smith, on suspicion of being concerned in several recent burglaries and highway robberies, yesterday made a full and complete confession of all the crimes in which he has taken any part, to District Attorney Church. He told all the details of the burglary of the Kingsburg Hardware company's store, in that town, of the burglary of the house of Roy H. Wilson, at 300 Summer avenue, Friday night, of the holding up of J. W. Gorrell, of 134 Coast avenue on Park avenue the same night, and of the holding up of Mr. O'Donnell on Butler avenue on Saturday night. He had for his side-partner the man Smith, who was with him when arrested.

Harvey says that he is from Denison, Colo., and has been in the vicinity of Yuma, Ariz., for some time. While there he met the man Shannon, who was convicted recently from Coalinga on a charge of assault with intent to rob. He came along the road with Smith, and the two robbed the Kingsburg store, getting some knives and razors, and some revolvers, which were found in their possession when they came into Fresno and committed the crimes mentioned above. They secured little booty from any of their hauls.

In spite of his youth, Harvey is a hard-looking specimen. He and his companion, who is 24 years of age, are both charged with highway robbery.

STAGE ROBBER LEAVES WOMEN UNMOLESTED

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, October 21.—The Murray stage, used for the conveyance of passengers on the line between Bingham Junction and Sandy, was brought to a halt by a masked robber early today at Lovendahl. The driver and the male passengers in the coach were ordered down from their seats, and when the robber faced them with drawn revolvers they readily complied with his demand for money and valuables. Only $12 was obtained from the party. It was said today, but the driver, who had a considerable sum of money in his possession, managed to hide it under the seat of the stage while the passengers were climbing down from their seats. The purse was overlooked by the robber.

The women passengers, of whom there were a number, were not molested. Satisfied that he had obtained everything of value that his victims possessed, the bandit, after permitting them to return to their seats, took a place alongside the driver and rode with the party to the end of the stage line, where he dismounted and escaped under cover of the darkness.

WOMAN SAW A BURGLAR

Mrs. W. N. Jack Wakened as He Broke Window Screen.

Watched Him In Moonlight
Close to Bed and Ran Into Street With Daughter.

Awakened by a burglar forcing open the window screen of her bedroom at 4 o'clock yesterday, Mrs. W. N. Jack, of 736 K street, and her eight year old daughter, Mabel, watched the thief in the moonlight until he gave up the job and went to the back of the house, and then the woman took the little girl, climbed through the window and ran up the street where she awakened neighbors and telephoned to her husband.

Mrs. Jack did not stop to dress nor get her shoes when she heard the burglar pass to the rear of the house. Whispering to little Mabel to keep quiet, she took the child in her arms and pushed out the screen which the early morning powder had released from its fastenings, and ran as fast as she could to the house of Mrs. Stauter, 732 K street, next door to the house of Engine 3.

Jack telephoned to the police and with two companions started home. By the time the police and the three men had reached the house, there was no trace of the burglar. Policeman Goehring responded to the summons by telephone.

"I heard somebody working at the window," said Mrs. Jack yesterday. "The bedroom window opens on the front porch. I raised up in bed and to the bright moonlight, close to the head of the bed, but just outside I could see the man plainly. The door was open but the screen had been fastened down with nails driven through the work." The man stopped when he saw the woman. The upper part of his face appeared to have a mask, but he was not seen and the light so I was not sure.

"I did not say a word, but watched him for nearly a minute. He stood and a, if I happened. Then he turned and went off the porch. I did not have shoes on, but I think he wore rubber or was in his stockings. I saw him cross the yard and caught a glimpse of him as he passed the window at the side of the house and then I heard him on the back porch. I jumped out of bed and fastened the bedroom door and then I took my daughter and jumped out of the window and ran up the block, two doors beyond to telephone my husband. "When I retired there was a breeze blowing against the window which I could feel break open. This morning I was leaning against the post a rail when my husband got here. "I could hear the clock striking four as I went through the window. Afraid? Yes and no; I seemed too frightened to scream and still I felt very cold. But I did not enjoy running up the street in my nightgown."

"I think the burglar supposed the room off the porch was not occupied. He probably heard me move and went to the back of the house, and then probably heard me getting out and ran away himself. I have a gun now, and if that burglar comes back to and if that burglar recognizes me, I will get a lively recognition. If I had had a pistol last night I would have shot him."

In addition to the attempted burglary, a man named Bonnel, who lives at 1221 1/2 Dorado street, reported to the police that he had been held up and robbed of $3.50 by two men at the corner of San Joaquin and G streets at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. The police were also notified about half past four yesterday morning that a man was prowling about the buildings in the alley back of the Grand Central stables and had tried to force an entrance into the Fresno creamery. Policemen Goehring and Johnson watched the neighborhood until daylight, but did not see the man.

RAINMAKER IS ON JOB

Charles Hatfield Has Contract to Produce Rain.

Says Millions of Acres Around Coalinga Can Be Made Fertile Farms.

Charles M. Hatfield, the professional rainmaker of Los Angeles, arrived in Fresno yesterday morning with his brother, Paul A. Hatfield, on his way to Coalinga Landing, between this city and Stockton, where he is under contract to produce twelve inches of rain between November 15th and April 15th.

Hatfield's contracts embrace about 100 ranches, aggregating 100,000 acres, located on the west side of the San Joaquin river in Stanislaus, Merced and San Joaquin counties. The territory in which he has agreed to cause rainfall extends nearly to Tracy on the north and as far south as Volia.

The rainmaker comes with his contract he will receive $2000, which makes the cost of his operations three cents an acre. He erects his plant at his own expense and in case he does not get the rain he does not receive a penny.

This is the third season Hatfield has worked in Coalinga Landing. Last year and the year before he "made good" and the farmers were well pleased with results.

"I have increased my plant 100 per cent," said Hatfield yesterday at the Grand Central hotel. "Last year I used two towers and this year I will have four. My electrical apparatus is double what it was last year and I expect to have my quota of rain by February 1st."

"During the summer I worked in Sherman county, Ore., and met with splendid success. The normal rainfall there during the period covered by my demonstrations is a little more than half an inch. I increased it 250 per cent."

"I gave five demonstrations in Sherman county and all of them were followed by rainfall. In all my experiments I have made forty-eight demonstrations and never failed to bring rain. I have a contract with Sherman county people for next summer. The farmers of that section believe that one of the finest crops of grain ever produced in the county will be harvested this year. One man sent me a check for $50 for the benefit I caused his crops."

"That country is similar to this valley, especially Coalinga. Heavy rain clouds blow over it at the time rain is needed, but the precipitation takes place in the Blue mountains. The clouds which pass over Coalinga follow the same idea and the precipitation occurs in the Sierras instead of on the rich soil in the region of Coalinga. Where the air is laden with moisture I can get results and I am confident that the millions of acres lying idle about Coalinga can be made fertile farm lands with my process."

"I am not looking for financial gain. I want the government to take up my methods, and if it does I am sure that it will mean millions of dollars in the country. I know that the weather bureau is watching my work and that recognition is bound to come and the national government will eventually take up the work. "The normal rainfall in the section I am going to now, during the time I use in my demonstrations is five inches, and has been that for the past forty years. My first year there I produced twelve inches and last year I got fifteen inches. I have no doubt of my success this year."

UNNATURAL FATHER IS— ARRAIGNED IN COURT

Says He Will Plead Guilty—Fresno Man Gets One Hundred and Eighty Days for Vagrancy.

J. H. Hollingsworth was arraigned before Judge Smith yesterday on the charge of having improper relations with his 14-year-old daughter, and was remanded to jail on $2000 bail. His preliminary has not yet been set. He declared his intention of pleading guilty to the work.

Harry Downing, 13 years old, a Fresno boy, was up before Judge Briggs yesterday morning on a charge of vagrancy. He was so young, and the case so much one of parental influence, that the judge had him sent back to jail, that his case might be handled later by the parental school authorities, and Judge Austin.

W. P. Hollenbeck, a resident of Fresno, who has been given various sentences lately for vagrancy, beginning with 10 days, and going right up the line for each succeeding conviction, was handed six months in the county jail by Judge Briggs yesterday. This is the maximum, and he would get more if it were possible. Hollenbeck does nothing toward the support of his family, and has a wife and daughter who work, and furnish him money for drink. He stands a good show of camping in jail for a good long time this trip, as he is to get six months every time he is arrested in the future, and he is usually arrested as soon as he gets out of jail in order to keep him out of mischief.

Arthur Carey, charged with vagrancy, pleaded not guilty before Judge Briggs yesterday. He acted suspiciously on landing in town, night before last, but will probably be released today without further action being taken against him, as he seems to be innocent of the charge.

William Webb, drunk, received a suspended sentence. Rogers Elkins, drunk, drew $5 or five days, and took the way. John J. Riley, vag, was handed out 30 days. George Bates, drunk, Jack Carr, drunk, Pat Rooney, drunk, and Frank Taylor, drunk, all received suspended sentences on promises to get on the water wagon and stay there.

BANKER GETS FIVE YEARS FOR EMBEZZLING FUNDS

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 21.—Former Banker Thomas Coghlin, of Seymour, Wis., pleaded guilty in the federal court today to having lost $10,000 of the bank's funds in what speculation in Chicago. He was sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kas.

CHAS. M. HATFIELD, THE RAIN WIZARD, SPENDS DAY HERE.

Charles M. Hatfield, who is attracting the attention of the national government with his experiments in causing the clouds to weep in the dry places, spent yesterday in Fresno. He says he can convert the Coalinga waste plains into a land of fruit and honey by assisting the lachrymose glands of Mother Nature and roping and throwing vagrant rain storms. Coincident with Hatfield's appearance in town Weather Observer Bolton hung out the rain flag.

CEMENTING PARK PATHS

Award of Contract for Front Approaches to Courthouse.

Worswick Company Will Also
Pave In Cement Concrete Tulare Street Side.

The supervisors took an adjournment yesterday afternoon until Saturday morning, when several connected matters will be specially considered, including the proposition to furnish the county treasurer with a safe vault in the treasurer's office.

The board accepted in behalf of the county by deed a strip of land twenty feet wide off the east edge of the southeast quarter of section 18-15-23 and placed the deed on record. The deed is for a road right of way out of this section, anticipatory of a sale of the land, or a portion of it.

The Worswick Street Paving company made the following bid for concrete pavement walks to the court house steps from the K street entrance:

Cast iron frames for curbs, 12x12x12, per lineal foot, 45 cents; saws for 8x8-inch gutter, per pound, 4 1/2 cents; concrete curb twelve and a half by 6, per lineal foot 30 cents; bicycle curb, per lineal foot 16 cents; sidewalk, per square foot, 15 cents; facing rising on lower step, 20 and gutters per lineal foot 25 cents.

This bid being the only one presented was accepted and the contract awarded. The cost of laying these concrete walks approaches to the court house was figured to range from $4200 to $4500.

The board resolved to have the Tulare street side of the court house grounds improved with cement concrete base paving and the contract was authorized with the Worswick Street Paving company, as awarded last Friday. The motion was made by Supervisor Johnson and seconded by Mitchell. The city will pave Tulare street with an asphalt base. The county contract will be signed on Saturday with the company and it will be required to give a bond of 50 per cent of the contract price to protect material men and 25 per cent to protect the county.

Deputy District Attorney McCormick promised for Saturday a written opinion in the matter of depositing public money in safety vault banks, involving also the proposition of a $2000 vault in the court house.

Regarding the claim of City Justice Graham, Mr. McCormick reported that as his salary is paid by the county there can be no question that the fines collected by him should go to the county. As to whether the county shall pay his office rent, it was resolved that his demand shall be presented as a claim against the treasury and then the question can be formally passed upon. As to the pay of stenographers in the court, the advice was given to the board that the county would have to pay these fees as it does in all cases in police and justice courts, as the stenographic reports are of as much assistance and need to the lower as they are to the upper courts.

ROLLINS IS EXONERATED

Killing of D. J. Ellis Found to Be In Self Defense.

Accused Released on Preliminary Hearing By Motion of District Attorney Church.

4—4—SLUG FOUR—4—4

Daniel Rollins, the convict accused of the killing of Daniel J. Ellis, the superintendent of the California Consolidated Cattle vineyard near Redlands, was dismissed at his preliminary examination yesterday before Justice of the Peace Mitchell, putting on record another case, where the unwritten law, and the justifiableness of slaying a man both abusive and dangerous. The motion for dismissal came from District Attorney Denver S. Church, himself, and was made upon the grounds that Rollins had acted purely in self-defense. Fully 99 per cent of the crowd collected at Judge Mitchell's court room, where the examination was held, was all in sympathy with the defendant, and it required no more than putting most of the witnesses on the case on the stand and letting them tell their tales, to convince the court and the district attorney that the actions of the defendant were perfectly justifiable.

The line of defense taken was largely one of establishing the character of Ellis in a way to prove that he was a dangerous man when intoxicated, and this was shown beyond the shadow of doubt. The evidence went to prove that Ellis, when a sober man, was an excellent fellow, but when drunk was almost a fiend.

An employee of the Laclede winery, where the tragedy occurred, whose name is Nyan, was the only eye-witness of the shooting, and he testified that at the time the shot was fired which killed Ellis, he was running to ward Rollins, who was standing still. All of the employees of the winery were put on the stand to testify as to the events preceding the shooting, and the general character of Ellis. Two United States gauges were also put on the stand, and gave accounts of all the trouble which led to the killing.

The trouble was the result of the actions of Ellis, who had been abusing not only Rollins, but the wife of the latter, and had so treated both as to justify a fear on the part of Rollins that Ellis might do him personal violence. The motion was also addressed to show that Ellis had threatened Rollins previous to the shooting. The killing was a pure case of self-defense, said District Attorney Church last evening, "and it was my own motion that the case was dismissed."

Attorneys Everts and Ewing represented the defendant.

MILLETT DEFENDS ACTION AS JUROR

Editor Republican:—Having read an article in Sunday morning's Republican regarding the Bennett jury, and their actions, especially in regard to myself as foreman, and one Myers, also a juror on the same case, I would like to make the following statement:

When I take an oath it has some meaning with me. I never jump at conclusions, nor do I render verdicts to suit the fancy of the officers, but I decide the case according to the law given me by the judge, and according to the best judgment and findings of my conscience. It hardly becomes the other jurors to question my honesty, because we could not agree. I believe that in their actions they have been honest from their point of view, but I do not think they should set themselves up as the judges of my conscience. I have never believed nor have I ever been in favor of rendering verdicts when on a jury, simply for the purpose of meeting public approval.

I have lived in Fresno for twenty-six years, and I defy anyone to point to one act of mine that has even a semblance of dishonesty, and if called upon to sit on a jury again, I shall be quite satisfied to bring the same honesty of conviction into the matter which I did in this case.

P. R. MILLETT.
